

AMERICANS MURDERED BY BLOOD THIRSTY, TRAIN-LOOTING GANG OF MEXICAN BANDITS

U. S. TROOPS ENGAGE FUGITIVES IN DESPERATE RUNNING BATTLE

Brownsville, Texas, Oct. 19.—Inspired by race hatred as well as desire for loot, twenty Mexicans who claimed to be followers of Luis De La Rosa, leader of the so-called "Texas revolution," held up and robbed a train near Olmito, seven miles north of here late last night. As a result two men are dead, another is probably fatally wounded and several others are seriously hurt. The bandits are believed to have escaped into Mexico. The zone of the robbery was three miles from the Rio Grande. The Mexicans as they fired at the train crew and passengers shouted "Viva Pizano, Viva Carranza."

The train, a southbound passenger train on the St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexico railroad, was wrecked before being attacked. United States soldiers took part in the duel with the bandits and detachments of troops pursued them when they fled. The dead: Corporal McBe, third U. S. cavalry, shot; Engineer H. E. Kendall, pinned beneath engine. Mr. E. S. McCain, deputy state health officer at Brownsville, was shot in abdomen and injured, probably fatally.

The others injured were: Harry J. Wallis, Brownsville, shot in arm; R. Woodhall, fireman scalded and bruised; Claude J. Brishcar, troop A. Sixth cavalry shot in jaw; C. H. Laymon troop D, third cavalry shot in neck and leg.

How much loot the robbers obtained is not known.

The bandits removed the spikes from a rail and lying concealed in the nearby brush, jerked this rail from under the nose of the engine with a long heavy wire. The engine, baggage and mail and express cars left the tracks. The engine and smoking car remained on the rails. No pullman were entered and few passengers were aboard.

The robbery was led by five or six Mexicans clad in khaki uniforms and with cheap straw hats, while outside the train about fifteen more Mexicans kept up a constant fire.

After the robbery the Mexicans burned a trestle north of them which prevented prompt arrival of United States soldiers sent from San Benito. These troops had to leave their special train and march a mile to reach the wrecked train.

Fired At

John W. Sward, of Pineville, Ky., a former U. S. soldier said he and three soldiers occupied a corner seat in the front of the smoking car. The other three, McBe, Brishcar and Laymon were in uniform. There was a crash and all four were pitched forward. The train stopped. Five or six Mexicans crowded in at the rear end of the coach and came forward firing revolvers. The third soldier, Laymon, was shot in the leg and then in the head as he was trying to escape. In the smoking compartment in addition to Sward and the three soldiers were Dr. McCain Wallis, District Attorney John I. Killebrew, Brownsville, R. Wright, a traveling man of Houston and P. W. Sauer, a traveling man of San Antonio.

There were also several Mexicans. In their first rush at the injured men the bandits paid little attention to other smoking car passengers.

American Uses Rose
British and Wallis managed to escape the lavatory without being observed. Killebrew fell as if shot while Wright and Sauer hid beneath seats. Sward said the bandits then announced to the several Mexicans in the coach that they need not fear that they would not be harmed.

In the meantime Sward took thirty dollars in bills from his pocket and hid them under his seat. The bandits came up and asked him if he had any money. He said "Sure," reached in his trousers pocket and fished out forty cents, saying: "Take that and bust yourself." He then stood and told the Mexican near that a woman was badly frightened in the other coach and he must attend her. He brushed aside a bandit and entered the first class coach which he passed through without being stopped. Dropping off the rear end he ran three miles to a telephone.

Shot Through

A Door

Sward said that just before he left the coach a well dressed young Mexican, apparently badly frightened, told the bandits there were two "Gringos" in the lavatory. These were Dr. McCain and Wallis. Wright, who had hidden under a seat, and between the feet of two Mexican women, said the bandits knocked on the lavatory door and commanded the men to come out. McCain and Wallis refused, whereupon the Mexicans fired through the door, hitting McCain in the abdomen and wounding Wallis.

San Benito, is the next station north of Olmito and has had much Mexican trouble. From Sauer, the San Antonio traveler, the Mexicans took $35 in cash but refused a dollar watch. Wright hid his cash, a small amount under the arm of the seat and was not robbed.

The bandits took from the dead soldier, McBe, his shoes. Several of them were barefooted.

Sward left his hat and coat and hat hanging on the window. Returning, he found his hat and coat were gone, and he says $250 in the coat pocket, which went with the coat.

WILLIS IN SECLUSION

Columbus, O., Oct. 19.—Governor Willis kept in strict seclusion within his private office today, seeing a few visitors but turning many more away. He conferred on the subject of pressing charges against county liquor licensing officers with Chas. Reid and Jas. H. Seerest and State Liquor Licensing Commissioner M. M. Rose.

The governor made no statement to supplement that issued last night in which he criticized the McDermott law referendum. He continued to indicate today he will not make a speaking tour of the state in behalf of the McDermott law and Sprague congressional redistricting law and maintained continued silence as to whether he expected to be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

ITALY AT WAR WITH BULGARIA

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—The capture by Bulgarian troops of Veranya, Serbia on the railroad between Nish and Saloniki, Greece, was reported officially today to the Bulgarian legation here. Occupation of the railroad at Veranya cuts off all rail communication between the Serbian capital and the source of supplies in the south.

London, Oct. 19.—Italy has declared war against Bulgaria, but the question whether she will send troops to join the British and French forces in Serbia remains as obscure as the results of the fighting raging on Serbia's eastern frontier.

The Austro-German armies which occupied Belgrade appear to have advanced more than fifteen miles south of the city, but the outcome of the fighting between Bulgarians and Serbians along the important Saloniki-Nish railway cannot be summed up so easily.

At two points the northernmost, which is Veranya, the Bulgarians assert they have reached this railroad, while to the south the Serbians are reported to have driven back the Bulgarians. Both Athens and Paris maintain that French troops have occupied Strumitsa in Southern Bulgaria, but there have been no official reports relating to the struggle in this quarter, and none is expected until the fighting reaches a more conclusive state.

300 Men Strike

Cleveland, O., Oct. 19.—Three hundred machinists at the Standard Tool Company plant went out on a strike in the eight hour day strike movement here this afternoon, according to a statement of John Luthrimer, organizer for the machinists' union. They marched to a nearby hall where they joined strikers from the Warner and Swazey and Barden and Oliver plants and listened to addresses by union leaders.

CLAIM "NISH" RAILWAY HAS NOT BEEN CUT

Paris, Oct. 19.—Denial is made in Athens that railway communication between Saloniki and Nish has been interrupted. The Athens correspondent of the Havas News Agency, who forwarded this information today, reported also that the arrival at Saloniki was expected of the first train bearing French soldiers wounded in fighting with the Bulgarians.

The Hestia, of Athens, says that

DISMISS TAGGART CASE

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 19.—The case against Thomas Taggart, Democratic national committeeman for Indiana, charged with election conspiracy, was dismissed by Special Judge W. H. Eishhorn in criminal court today.

On the motion of Prosecutor A. J. Rucker, the cases of the more than 100 other men who were indicted with Taggart and Mayor Joseph E. Bell, were put over to December 1. Mayor Bell was acquitted by a jury last Wednesday after a trial lasting more than five weeks.

MUST MAKE PUBLIC LIST OF LICENSES

Columbus, Oct. 19.—The state liquor licensing board prepared an order to county boards requiring them to make public their lists of saloon licenses granted and refused at an early date, as long before the November 2 election as possible. The exact date will be announced later, it was said.

BIG GOLD SHIPMENT

New York, Oct. 19.—The latest shipment of gold from England to the United States, said to be larger than any previous consignment arrived here today and was placed in the assay office. The gold is said to consist chiefly of British sovereigns and to be worth approximately $25,000,000.

The gold was consigned to J. P. Morgan and company.

OFFICIALS VOTE

Washington, Oct. 19.—President Wilson went to Princeton, N. J., where he will vote in favor of the proposed amendment to the state constitution providing equal suffrage. He will return to Washington tonight.

Secretary Garrison and Secretary Tamm and scores of government employees also left today for New Jersey to vote.

SERBIANS FIGHTING STUBBORNLY

Paris, Oct. 19.—The Serbians are offering stout resistance to the Austro-German advance in the Sava section, according to information from Nish received by the Journal. A wireless message sent by the Austrian general in charge there to Field Marshal Von Mackensen and intercepted by the Serbians is said to be as follows:

"Impossible to accomplish my task successfully unless you send heavy reinforcements immediately."

"It is reported a Bulgarian regiment refused to fight the Serbs at Kadiogratz, near Knjevezatz and killed its colonel. The regiment, it is said, was surrendered and decimated by the rest of the division."

Philadelphia, Oct. 19.—President Wilson, while traveling to Princeton, announced that he had granted a pardon to Cameron Spear, sentenced to five years in the Atlanta penitentiary for unlawfully using the mails in connection with Collins Wireless Telephone Co.

FORMALLY ACCEPTED BY THE U. S.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—Formal recognition by the United States of the de facto government of Mexico with General Venustiano Carranza as chief executive, was accomplished at noon today by the delivery to General Carranza's representatives Elizo Arredondo at the Mexican embassy of a letter from Secretary Lansing. Recognition letters from the Pan-American conference similar in tone also were received by Mr. Arredondo. Tomorrow Mr. Arredondo will start for Saltillo, Mexico to meet General Carranza and present to him the letters and notes of recognition from the several governments of Central and South America which arrived during the day, in accordance with the decision of the Pan-American conference yesterday.

Recognition by other nations than those represented in the Pan-American conference is expected to follow soon now that the United States has made known its policy. Great Britain will probably be one of the first.

Although no final decision has been reached as to the appointment of an American ambassador to Mexico City the most likely choice is Henry P. Fletcher, at present the ambassador to Chile.

CRISIS HOVERS OVER ENGLISH CABINET

(BULLETIN)
London, Oct. 19 (1:02 p. m.)—Premier Asquith has suddenly become ill. His state of health will require withdrawal from public activities, at least for a few days.

Shortly before one o'clock the following bulletin was issued at Downing street:

"The prime minister is suffering from an attack of gastro-intestinal catarrh, which will necessitate a few days of complete rest."

Earlier in the day Mr. Asquith attended the meetings of the war cabinet in his official residence.

London, Oct. 19.—Great Britain is waiting anxiously to learn whether the cabinet ministers will be able to compose their differences and continue the government without swapping horses in midstream. The military difficulties which confront the Allies have taken a position of secondary importance for the time being.

The cabinet has been holding long and frequent meetings since the Balkan crisis developed. Both newspapers and politicians agree that vital differences of opinion have arisen over the conscription issue and the near-east question. In the meantime party newspapers are carrying on a bitter debate and exchanging accusations of lack of patriotism and of placing party and private interests above those of the country.

The resignation of Sir Edward Carson, attorney general, was the first proof of difficulties in the cabinet. The reason assigned for his withdrawal is disagreement with the cabinet's policy in regard to the near-east, but the specific point of division is withheld, as in the case of the retirement of Foreign Minister Delcasse of France, in whose footsteps Sir Edward appears to follow.

Speaking in Dublin last night John Redmond declared the position of the coalition government was precarious.

"Any day we may be faced with another reconstruction," he said, "or with proposals which would end instantly the political truce and would rend the British people into contending factions."

The cabinet and the country as a whole would regard a general election on party lines as a calamity. If such a contest were fought on the question of conscription it might be expected to foment great bitterness and class division.

The anti-conscriptionists newspapers are demanding a fair trial be given to the plan of voluntary enlistment under direction of the Earl of Derby before there is any further talk of a change.

SIX MEN LOOT TWO FREIGHTS

New York, Oct. 19.—Six armed men held up and robbed two freight trains and attempted to rob an American express train on West Shore railroad at the entrance to a tunnel between Congers and Haverstraw, N. Y., early today. After loading an automobile with packages, taken from the two freight trains, the bandits escaped.

Sheriff Serven, of Rockland county and others attempted to pursue the fleeing robbers in an N. J.

Traction Company Loses Franchise

Columbus, Oct. 19.—By a decision handed down by the Ohio supreme court today the Northern Ohio Traction and Light Company is ousted from Stark county.

The quo warranto proceedings attacking the traction company and seeking to end its franchise in Stark county was instituted by Herbert C. Pontius, prosecutor of Stark county. The franchise was given the road in 1892 for an indefinite period by the county commissioners. The company claimed the right to hold the franchise perpetually.

Pontius sued to terminate it. The general effect of the court's decision is to establish definitely the principle that a public utility franchise granted originally for an indefinite period, can be terminated at will by either company or the subdivision which gave the franchise. This is expected to be received with special interest in a number of communities over the state where similar disputes exist over franchise rights.

The specific object of Stark county officials' fight against the traction and light company was to secure a reduction of fare between Canton and Massillon from 15 to 10 cents, and to secure with this fare transfers on locations in those cities. Officials now are free to insist on the terms.

The vote of supreme court judges on the N. O. T. and L. case was four to three. It was said Chief Justice Nicholas and Judges Johnson, Mammaker and McIntosh voted to oust the company and Judges Donahue, Newsum and Jones voted against ousting.

6 DIE IN WRECK

Oklahoma, City, Okla., Oct. 19.—Six persons are dead, two fatally injured and about eight others badly hurt as the result of a head on collision early today between Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific southbound train No. 11, and a northbound freight train, twelve miles south of Chickasa.

Postoffice Robbed

Springfield, Ohio, Oct. 19.—Robbers dynamited the safe of the Yellow Springs, Ohio, postoffice early this morning, securing between $300 and $400 in cash and $100 in stamps. Three armed men stood guard over the postoffice while others did the robbing. Residents who made their appearance were threatened with their lives. The robbers made their escape in an automobile.

New Jersey Women Battling For Ballot At The Polls Today

Newark, N. J., Oct. 19.—The fight for women suffrage in New Jersey is on today.

The polls opened at six o'clock this morning and will remain open until nine tonight.

Suffrage and Anti-suffrage workers alike claim victory.

"Votes for Women," the former say, will win by 25,000. Women suffrage will be decisively defeated, the Anti-Suffrage leaders assert.

More than five thousand women watchers took their places at virtually every polling place in New Jersey today, prepared to challenge voters, if necessary, and otherwise to guard the rights of their co-workers for suffrage.

The last public plea for votes was voiced in this city at six o'clock this morning, the time for opening of the polls at the termination of a meeting where feminine speakers had addressed passersby.

Heavy eyed and weary the speakers went home, their work being taken up by scores of young women in automobiles who went through every section of the city to bring voters to the polls.

Newark and Essex county, in which the city is situated, were the chief battle ground.

If women win the ballot, they will have to wait until next year to vote as today is the last registration day before the November election.

THREE INDICTED FOR MURDER BY GRAND JURY; 27 TRUE BILLS

Twenty-seven true bills, eleven of them kept secret, were returned by the grand jury about five o'clock Monday afternoon, after a four hours' special session. Seven cases were ignored.

Albert Marshall and John Henry Smith, both colored, were again indicted for murder in the first degree in connection with the blowing up of the railroad construction camp near Sciotoville last August, in which five negroes were killed. Each was indicted on five separate counts of murder, and they were also indicted jointly for murder in the first degree.

An indictment of murder in the first degree was also returned against John William Crump, colored, charged with the murder of Robert Dorier, also colored, in a U. & O. Northern construction camp near Sciotoville on October 3rd last.

All three of the alleged murderers are in the county jail.

The case against Sarah Means, charged with manslaughter, was ignored by the grand jury. She was charged with complicity in the shooting of Walter Benson at Sciotoville, on September 21st last, for which shooting her son, Robert Means, is held responsible by the county authorities. Mrs. Means has been in the county jail since the shooting.

Other indictments returned were: James McCuskey, carrying concealed weapons.

William McKay, carrying concealed weapons.

William Clay, carrying concealed weapons.

Tire Johnson, larceny.

William Patton, shooting with intent to kill.

The following cases were ignored: Robert Shoemaker, arson.

Charles Whisman, larceny.

Richard Johnson, forgery.

C. Y. Ligon, resisting an officer.

Earl Ruby, driving tractor engine with lugs over highways.

Sarah Means, manslaughter.

In all, thirty-four witnesses were examined by the grand jury in its four hours' session. The indictments were entered upon the court record Monday evening by John Hall, the clerk, and the warrants were in the hands of Sheriff Smith by nine o'clock Monday evening, ready for service.

Tire Johnson, one of the indicted prisoners, entered a plea of guilty to the charge of larceny when arraigned before Judge Thomas, Tuesday morning, and was given an indeterminate term in the Mansfield Reformatory. He confessed to stealing a watch from his brother-in-law, Vincent Robert, of New Boston, a few weeks ago.

"A Community Conscience"

One of the strongest sermons delivered in the city for some time was heard in Bigelow church Sunday when its new pastor, Dr. C. E. Chandler talked on a "Community Conscience." In his sermon Dr. Chandler said:

A tax was levied, so runs the Persian legend, upon all the birds and beasts; but in the levy, two, and two only, escaped. When the collector of the bird tax approached the ostrich he was met with a surprised and pained refusal. "I, a bird! Do you see this camel hump on my back, this long neck of a giraffe? And see me run faster than a horse. I am no bird, but a beast." On the next day he was met by the beast tax collector, and escaped thus: "I, a beast! Surely you have not noticed these long and gorgeous feathers! And note how I fly across the desert with wings. Do beasts wear wings?"

The Rat was the other compromiser. No bird, for did he not squeak as a mouse, and wear fur. No beast, for his song was a birds' song and he flew through the dark!

"Till somebody has a conscience nobody can feel a law."

As in the days of Elijah, who stood before God and became a conscience for Israel, as in the days of John on the Isle of Patmos, who saw from his prison island the palace of wickedness and the fortresses of iniquity, who felt the fiery breath of dragons and heard the snarl of wolves and hissing of serpents, but who also saw against the dark background of a world hate and world-violence, the great white throne; and because he saw the white throne was not afraid as his courage, one of Calvary and Pentecost, with Peter and Paul and a host of christians who welcomed the challenge of their Lord, became conscience that changed civilization. As in that time, so today. Brave men may hear the challenge of Jesus.

Men may be bats and ostriches—neither bird nor beast, but brave men will follow their lead.

There are movements running today that cut square across the desires of some men. These movements challenge men today. To avoid them because they are not popular with everybody is to play the coward and to be false to conscience. You remember that striking poem of Browning "The Last Judgment." It begins with a familiar couplet:

"Just for a handful of silver, he left us,

Just for a riband to stick in his coat."

And whatever Browning meant by it for his own day, it is a statement of constant peril, that a man will find something nearly of personal profit which will blind him to higher things. For such a man who dares not go forward because of enemies he will make, who will not take the path which before God he knows is right, who will not obey his conscience—for that man, whether small or great, his story will write sterner words than those of Browning.

"Blot out his name, record one lost soul more."

One task more declined, one more fornication untrod,

One more devil's triumph, and sorrow for angels.

One wrong more to men, one more insult to God.

Christ said to his disciples: "Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out demons. He asked a hard thing of them, but when will strong men be dismayed by a hard task. He asked a dangerous thing but strong men do not quail before danger. He asked a costly thing, but brave men do not count the cost. "Theirs not to make reply." Our leader in this twentieth century crusade, Christ Jesus, asks of us the same thing.

The saloon breeds corruption until the body politic is sick, from the crown of the head to the sole of the foot. The saloon is tainted with moral leprosy. Heal the sick, cleanse the leper; cast out the demons. This foul harp, the saloon breathes its pestilential breath into the faces of our babes in the cradles; stains the souls of our youth; laughs at woman's tears; slays every year, under the protection of the stars and stripes more men than are annually butchered by Abdul the Damned. To cast out this demon, this is our work and we must do it.

It is said at the siege of Port Hudson in 1863 when the investment had been made complete and the lines were within speaking distance, the rebels had at one point, directed a powerful redoubt, crowned with sharpshooters. The federal soldiers had christened it Fort Infernal. It silenced the works opposed to it and made the further prosecution of the siege impossible. Seeing this, General Banks sent for Colonel Berrien, the commander of the Union forces stationed at this spot and sharply criticized their inactivity. The colonel replied that the redoubt was impregnable. The general responded that it was no matter if it was, it must be taken and that at nine o'clock on the next morning it must be stormed with shot and shell. "Well, sir," said the colonel, "I shall be done." He said Col. Berrien, and his bronzed cheek burned with the implied rebuke.

He saluted, turned away, assembled his subordinate officers and laid the matter before them. With united voice, they declared the undertaking to be the merest madness. "Gentlemen," said the colonel, "this attack will be made, if I make it alone."

At 8:30 the troops were mustered at the bugle call but stood gloomy and unresponsive as the colonel addressed them in inspiring words. Watch in hand he waited. As the finger touched the figure nine he leaped to the parapet and shouted "Forward." A tremor shook the column but not a man moved. "Forward, charge!" he shouted. Their heads sank in shame, but they stood as if turned to stone. "Cover your carcasses, cowards. I will storm the battery." They heard, they saw him leap. Before he had gone a dozen paces, Col. Sergeant Whitaker unfurled his flag and followed him.

They went alone, these two, a living sword and a living flag, into the very jaws of death. And men saw them, and when they saw they forgot to fire or to breathe, and stood staring, open mouthed. And when the significance of it dawned upon them, from both breastworks alike, rebel as well as Union, there went up one wild yell of admiration. The next movement that Yankee column sprang over the breastworks as a tiger on, over, in! What was death? Under the impulse they would have stormed hell!

They did the impossible. They captured the impregnable. No one remembered how, but as the evening remnant gathered around the shredded flag which Whitaker had stuck in the rampart, they heard the faint voice of their wounded colonel saying: "Well, boys, you did come, in spite of all."

And men will be always found to follow, if men can be found to lead.

NEW BOSTON

Pleasant Lutz, fourteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lutz of Harrisonville avenue and Oak street, had his right leg broken just above the ankle Tuesday morning and narrowly escaped fatal injury when kicked by a mule. Lutz, with his young brother Eugene were playing hide and seek in the barn. Pleasant had a raincoat on and when he ran into the stall he frightened the animal. The first kick felled young Lutz and knocked him to one side of the stall. Several other vicious kicks narrowly missed the lad who was pulled from his dangerous position by John Shepard, a neighbor, who heard the animal's hoofs hitting the side of the stall.

Ira Shaffer, Gallia street barber, has received a very interesting letter from his brother Stephen Shaffer, who is one of Uncle Sam's marines. Shaffer was on the battleship Tennessee before landing. He is at Cape Haitien, Haiti, and the marines are assisting the police there in disarming rebel and ins natives.

The Jr. O. U. A. M. held a rousing meeting Monday evening. Two flags have been received for the school buildings but no date has been set for the presentation. A luncheon at Mayor J. S. Davis' expense was greatly enjoyed.

Council will meet Friday evening in adjourned session. The matter of naming a man to run the village are apparatus and of securing a suitable place to house the truck will be taken up.

John Hurley, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hurley, of East Rhodes avenue, is ill with tonsillitis.

Mrs. Thurmon Emery and children of Stewart's returned home Monday from Wards Station where they attended the Walt-Stewart-Yeley reunion held Sunday at the home of Mrs. Benjamin W. Yelley.

The Arrows will go to London next Sunday to meet the best amateur team in that city. All members of the team are urged to be at Davis' store tonight (Tuesday) at 7 o'clock.

A ten pound son arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Fitch on Ohio avenue Monday. Mr. Fitch is a butcher, councilman and candidate for mayor on the Independent ticket.

Mayor Davis has a plan to house the new fire truck without much coast. A second story could be built on the present jail. The first floor could then be used as a house for the fire truck and watchman, the second floor being turned into a jail.

George Church, who skipped town last week while Mayor Davis was writing a warrant for his arrest, returned Monday and pleaded guilty to a charge of gambling. He was fined $20 and costs.

A very short session was held by council Monday evening, with all members present. Solicitor Skelton and Engineer Harper were present. Bills amounting to $340.36, including the officials' salaries, were allowed.

After a short discussion, former Deputy Marshal Lon Rice's bill of $26 was allowed.

A motion was passed authorizing Clerk Thomas O'Neal to advertise for sale bonds to the amount of $2,000 to be used in the purchase of the Alan Jordan strip on West avenue. The village is to pay $1900. Peoples Realty Company $300 and the Portsmouth Street Railway and Light Company $100.

Solicitor Skelton was ordered to bring in at the next meeting an ordinance for the re-numbering of every house in the village, the numbers to continue from where the city left off.

L. C. Turley, of Idlewild addition, was present and reported that an officer from the state health board was in the city Monday and that he gave the sewer plans of Idlewild his approval. The plans will have to be sent to the state health board for final approval. Engineer Harper is working on the plans and estimates.

THEATRICAL

New Company Makes Hit

Lovers of the drama who attended the opening show of the Ted Dalley Stock Company at the Sun theatre Monday evening were greatly pleased by the class of entertainment offered to the theatre-going public at such popular prices. The change of policy at the popular play house seems to have met with the hearty approval of Sun patrons judging by the way the house was filled at the opening performance. "The Deep Purple" chosen as the introductory bill was produced in a splendid way by the Dalley artists. "The Deep Purple," Paul Armstrong's famous drama of New York's underworld was never before seen in Portsmouth. The plot is based on the attempt of a clever band of crooks to work the old familiar "badger" game on a young mining engineer. The company as a whole acquitted itself in a commendable manner. "The Divorce Question" will be produced the last half of the week program being changed Thursday.

THEATRICAL

New Company Makes Hit

Lovers of the drama who attended the opening show of the Ted Dalley Stock Company at the Sun theatre Monday evening were greatly pleased by the class of entertainment offered to the theatre-going public at such popular prices. The change of policy at the popular play house seems to have met with the hearty approval of Sun patrons judging by the way the house was filled at the opening performance. "The Deep Purple" chosen as the introductory bill was produced in a splendid way by the Dalley artists. "The Deep Purple," Paul Armstrong's famous drama of New York's underworld was never before seen in Portsmouth. The plot is based on the attempt of a clever band of crooks to work the old familiar "badger" game on a young mining engineer. The company as a whole acquitted itself in a commendable manner. "The Divorce Question" will be produced the last half of the week program being changed Thursday.

Anniversary Of Sheridan's Ride

Fifty-one years ago today, on October 19, 1864, the great battle of Cedar Creek, Va., made famous by Thos. Buchanan Read's poem, "Sheridan's Ride" was fought between the armies of the North and South.

One of the survivors of that engagement, Capt. Cread F. Milstead, of this city, paused with his work long enough Tuesday morning to regale the mind of a Times man with a graphic recital of the all day struggle between the two great armies, which finally resulted in a decisive victory for the Union forces, after they had been all but routed by General Jordan's sudden attack early in the day. General Jordan was the hero of the battle from a Southern standpoint, claims Captain Milstead, notwithstanding General Early's attempt to discredit him.

Captain Milstead, while not attempting to discount the glory that came to General Sheridan because of his famous ride, is one of the few surviving participants in that battle, who is of the opinion that the battle was won through General Wright's superior generalship before General Sheridan arrived on the scene.

One year ago today, Capt. Milstead attended the fiftieth reunion of the survivors of that battle, which was held at Cincinnati. General Warren Keifer, of Springfield, is the only surviving general on the Union side, and he was present at the reunion. Several survivors of the battle reside in Portsmouth.

Says Simple Laxative Better than Castor Oil

Case of Chronic Constipation Yields to Mild Laxative Compound

Writing from The House of the Good Shepherd, at Sunnyside Ave., and 50th St., Seattle, where she is the guest of her life-long friend the Reverend Mother, Mrs. Mary Austin, widow of a wealthy San Franciscan, who lost everything in the fire of 1906, says she experienced speedy relief from the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and that she found this gentle, pleasant-tasting laxative more effective than several doses of castor oil.

The active principles of certain laxative herbs are combined in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin to act on the eliminative organs in an easy, natural way, without griping or other discomfort. Its freedom from opiate or narcotic drug of every description, combined with its gentle action and positive effect, make it the ideal laxative for family use. Druggists every-

Ten Weeks In Bed--Eminent Physicians Failed--Wonderful Recovery

I wish to inform you of the great benefit I have derived from the use of Swamp-root. I had been a sufferer for more than twenty years from kidney and liver trouble and was almost constantly treated by the most eminent physicians who could only give me temporary relief. I had been in bed ten weeks when I began the use of Swamp-root. Inside of twenty-four hours I could see that I had been greatly benefited. I continued to use Swamp-root until I had used several bottles when I really felt that my old trouble was completely cured and I am positive that any person suffering with kidney or liver trouble can be cured by the use of this preparation.

I am now in the best of health, better than I have been for ten years or more. I do not know how to express myself as strongly as I desire, in favor of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-root, as I am sure that it saved my life and that my good health is due entirely to this great remedy. I heartily recommend it to every sufferer and I am confident they can be benefited as I have been. It is a pleasure for me, gentlemen, to hand you this recommendation.

MRS. H. J. PRICE.
1406 Center St., Portsmouth, Ohio.

Boy Scout News

The second meeting of troop 8 Boy Scouts Anniversary was held last night at the Mauley M. E. church with a full house. This was parents' night and many of them were out. The first number on the evening's program was a vocal solo by Miss Alena Davis, followed by the members. Kenneth Swearingen, troop musician, then rendered a beautiful piano solo, entitled "Evening Chimes," after which Scout Scribe Harry R. Doll made the welcome address which made all visitors present feel that they were welcome. Then came troop greetings as follows: Troop 2, Marion Garrison; troop 3, Curtis Bellamy; troop 5, Richard Knud; troop 6, Richard Boyd; troop 9, Carl Walker; troop 10, Charles Baker; troop 11, Scoutmaster Melvin Bentley. The response to these cordial greetings was made by Corwin Knowles of troop 8.

Scout Commissioner M. H. F. Kinsey then made an address to the parents present, his subject being, "How the Scout Movement Helps the Boy." Mr. Herbert Kalb, a prominent local pianist, rendered a beautiful selection, "Moonlight On the Hudson." Mr. Kalb received a hearty encore, responding with another selection which was greatly enjoyed.

Darsie Hamilton, East End patrol leader, read a very interesting history of troop 8, followed with an address by Frank C. Davis, whose subject was "Troop Eight's Influence in the East End."

The closing number of the evening's program was a piano duet by Mr. Kalb and Kenneth Swearingen.

Many Delegates To Attend

Notice is being received nearly every day at Boys' headquarters of large numbers of delegates who will attend the Southern Ohio Boy Scout Conference which convenes in Portsmouth November 5 and 6. Word was received this morning that Cullerburg, Ky., would send 4 delegates; Ironton, 4; Seinto-ville, 20; Cincinnati, 1; Columbus, 2; besides many more towns that have sent in notices earlier. These delegates will be well cared for in homes of local scouts.

COMEDIAN JOINS "WET" CORPS OF SPEAKERS

A little zest was added to the wet and dry campaign in this county by the wet organization in the importation for one week's engagement in this county of Noah Schechter, a Louisville comedian, of Cincinnati, also a public speaker of unusual ability.

Mr. Schechter had his audience at Harrisonville, Monday evening, in paroxysms of mirth over his wife stories and sallies, many of them told in dialect, and all of them having a bearing on the campaign against state-wide prohibition. This evening he will fill an engagement at Wheelersburg.

The meeting at Harrisonville was advertised as an open-air meeting, but on account of the rain it was held in a hall in the village. About five voters were present. Mr. Schechter has filled time on some of the biggest vaudeville circuits in the country, and is especially known as a character impersonator. The local wet leaders were greatly pleased over the effective manner in which he drove home his arguments. He will speak at Ohio Furnace on Wednesday evening, at McCord's store on Bear Creek, Thursday evening, lower Market Square Saturday afternoon, and Gallia Square Saturday evening.

Sally Fined $25 For Assault On A Street Railway Conductor

Albert Sally, a barber, was fined $25 and costs in police court Tuesday morning, for assaulting Conductor Oscar C. Forinash aboard a street car near Eleventh and Hutchins streets Monday evening.

The mayor said he felt that he would be justified in sending Sally to the Cincinnati workhouse for a period of six months, but this would only serve to incite a feeling of malice in the young man against the street car company, which has so much of its property out in the open, instead of under lock and key, and therefore difficult to protect.

Sally had boarded the car as it passed the Gallia street esplanade and came near getting hurt. Forinash, as a matter of precaution, took his name. The incident was considered dropped until the car approached the above corner, when Sally, standing near the exit, demanded Forinash's name. The conductor was busy and ignored him, while, according to the testimony of several witnesses, Sally began using uncomplimentary language, declaring the company would be made to pay for not stopping for him, and defying the conductor to put him off. He struck Forinash, knocking him senseless to the floor, then hurried from the car.

Ed Beebe, a motorman, who with his wife were aboard the car, helped Forinash to his feet. Beebe testified that Sally struck the conductor three times. Forinash, himself, claimed he was struck from behind and without warning. Sally claimed Forinash threatened to kick him off and assumed such an attitude, and denied that he struck him more than once. John Duffen, another witness, said Forinash made no move to strike Sally. Attorney Clint Searl prosecuted the case against Sally.

Edison Triumphant

This week—Oct. 18th to 23rd—is a week of celebration for the master inventor's greatest achievement.

Complete triumph in just 10 months over the tremendous difficulties of New Jersey's greatest foe.

The country is bowing to Mr. Edison's greatness. One of the greatest of all his inventions his pet and hobby—the one in which he has given most of his time is The Gramophone Phonograph.

Hear the New Edison—note how perfectly it reproduces the artist's music—human, life-like, natural. It is the laboratory re-creation of music as opposed to manufactured music. The musical instrument as opposed to the talking machine.

Special Concert Tonight

We have arranged a special concert for tonight—a splendid Edison Music Program. Come and hear this choice program of the world's best music. Note how the distinctive tone of the artist is preserved. No mechanical timbre. The artist is before you in all but form. Come and bring your friends. No charge for seats. Judge Mr. Edison's great triumph for yourself.

Ellis Monk Beaten Up At His Home

Ellis Monk, a foundryman, was attacked and badly used up at his own home on Front street, above Waller, by several men Monday night.

James Burton, his son Charles Burton, who skipped to Kentucky and Charles Johnson are jointly charged with the assault and their hearing in police court has been postponed indefinitely.

An old grudge is thought to have prompted the assault, Monk having "cleaned up" with the younger Burton, on Chillicothe street, several weeks ago, it is said. He was talking to a friend Monday night when attacked without warning by the others, one of them striking him on the head with a brick and knocking him down. The elder Burton is said to have stood over the prostrate man and held back others from interfering while his son was pummeling Monk. He required the services of a physician to dress his wounds but was able to appear at the mayor's office Tuesday. Burton was advised to send for his son for the longer he remained in Kentucky the more distasteful the case would be to the court.

WORK IS NEEDED.

It will be a great thing for Portsmouth when the various roadways are again opened to travel. It will mean thousands of dollars more business for merchants, it will mean more country produce for the city people and it will mean better markets for the farmers. We thought of this Monday when in talking to a prosperous farmer from the East end of the county he said that for the past two years he had been doing his trading in Ironton because the roads leading into Portsmouth were so bad that he did not like to travel them. He said that most of his neighbors were doing the same thing. Asked if they would not come back when the road paving was completed and Portsmouth again easily accessible, he said that they would, to a certain degree, but that some had formed trade relations that it would be hard to break off. This shows that our commercial bodies forlorn have some work cut out for them. When the way is clear for travel they will have to go after the trade in sections that have been isolated and they will have to go after it in an earnest, systematic manner to win it back.

THE LIFE OF AN ENGINEER.

We used to have an ambition to be a locomotive engineer and could imagine no finer moment than to bring a passenger train into the station, swing down from the cab with an oil can and proceed to oil up in the presence of the gaping crowd. Since reading a few statistics sent out by the bureau of information of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, we have revised our ambition for the last time. No engineering in ours. For instance, it is stated that the average working life of a locomotive engineer is 11 years and 7 days. In the last 10 years the insurance department of the Brotherhood has paid out for accidental death incurred as a result of service nearly $5,000,000. For amputation of one or both legs for accidents on duty, $604,500. For amputation of one or both arms from accident, injury while on duty $265,000. The total for ten years from accidents alone was $6,574,500. Further than this it has been calculated that out of every 100 men who start as fireman only 17 become engineers, and that out of every 100 who finally become engineers only 6 become passenger engineers. As Grand Chief Warren S. Stone, of the B. of L. E., said in a recent speech, "the next time you see some grey-haired engineer leaning out of the cab of the engine that has drawn you safely to your journey's end, remember that he represents the sifting out process—the survival of the fittest."

SO NEAR AND SO FAR.

A visit to the ruins of the water works reservoir will show that had the wall been put down two feet deeper it would have rested in a solid foundation and so been secure for all time. Why this was not done, when the extra expense would have been no more than a few hundred dollars is one of those things past finding out. Especially does this become more difficult of understanding, when the break occurred at a corner, where the jointure made the wall especially weak and it must have been always apparent there was imminent danger of a slide there.

In fact, since solid rock lies only a foot or two under the bed of the reservoir, it would seem ordinary prudence would have dictated the carrying of the floor down to it in view of the known instability of the soil.

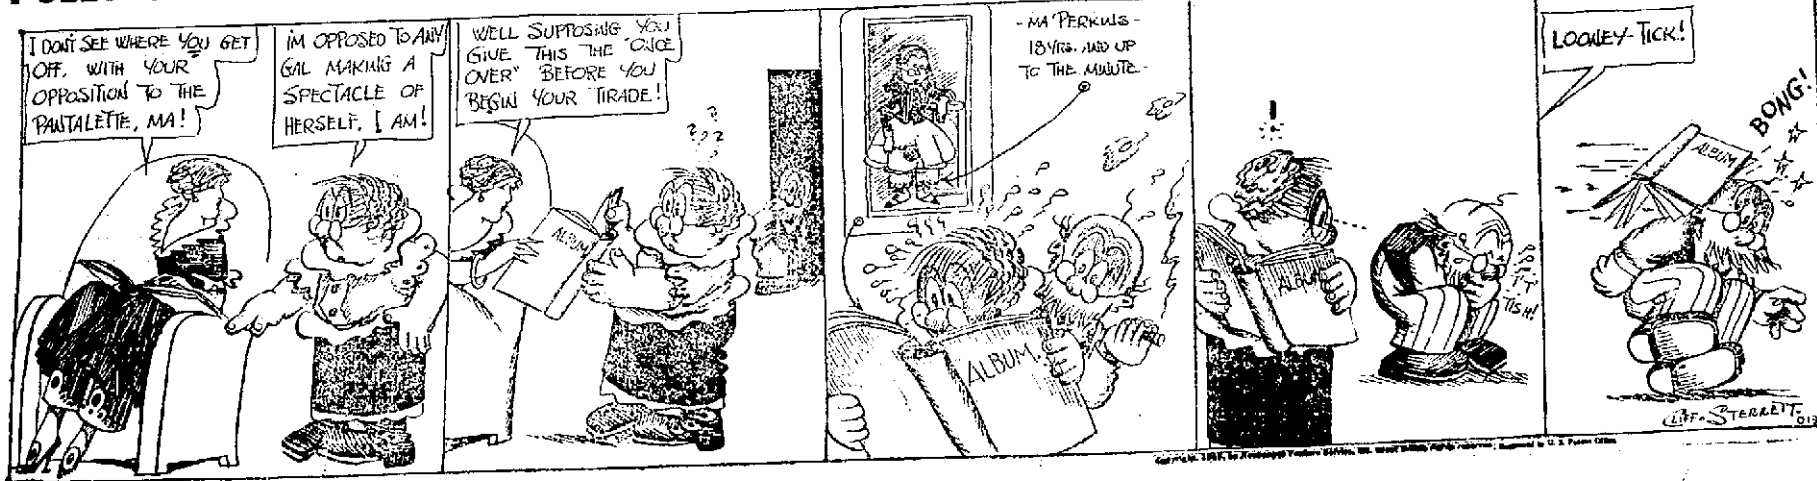

However, "the milk has been spilt", and the problem is to repair the damage as quickly and as sufficiently as prudent provision for the future will allow. The administration is taking hold of the matter resolutely and diligently and there is some assurance that a precarious situation will be ended in the shortest time and the best manner possible, with profit by the mistakes and carelessness of the past.

Those of you with champagne appetites can rest secure in the knowledge that the champagne industry has not suffered from the war. At least that is what the New York reporters are saying. It is explained that the perfecting of champagne requires several years and takes place in bottles stored in cellars several stories under ground. In 1914 when the Germans were marching on Paris the entire champagne district in France was occupied by German soldiers, and yet, we are told "in no instance was there any destruction in the cellars of the champagne houses. After the battle of the Marne the Germans retreated leaving the stocks intact and the entire district in French hands. Since then enough champagne has been exported to America to care for all demands". So there now, you should worry.

One of the institutions of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad is its relief department. A circular just issued says that in the 35 years of its existence it has paid out in benefits $20,096,883. Of this sum $6,149,737 went to 335,364 employees for sick benefits and $5,029,150 as insurance indemnity on account of natural death. The sum of $1,440,000 was loaned to employees during the fiscal year of 1915 to assist them in the purchase of homes. That certainly is a fine showing, and fully in keeping with the broad policy of this railroad system in dealing with its employees.

The Balkans are in war flames, but it would scarce be accurate to say, as of old, that they are threatening the peace of Europe.

POLLY AND HER PALS

IN OTHER OCTOBERS

THE ETERNAL ITCH.

It is political gossip that "Billy" Mason is to be taken care of as assistant corporation counsel of Chicago, a small job for a small man.

Billy Mason is not an exception, he is a type. He is glib of tongue and such thoughts as he has run to office—for himself. Years ago, in a period of political aberration, brought on by agitation of Cleveland's pension vetoes, he got at the head of the small and was elected senator for one term only, of course. If he were a persistent office-seeker before, he has been one doubly ever since. If there was anything on the calendar of jobs he wasn't begging for since, the records fail to disclose it. Anywhere from a "mentioned for the presidency" down to alderman, was attractive to him and he enjoys the championship for being the oftener beaten man that ever ran for office. The habit still inheres in him and with this job assistant counselor on hand he is a prospective candidate for congressman-at-large and billed to maintain his unbroken record of defeats.

The best summing up of Colonel Roosevelt we have seen is made by a writer in the bulletin issued by the Central Press Association of Cleveland to its clients. Discussing the need of Americans to assert themselves in their own country, he says of Roosevelt "he has such a violent way of saying a sensible thing that his remarks are apt to be discounted." Could there be a more comprehensive judgment in as few words?

President Wilson motored 185 miles Friday to get some pie and didn't get it, though he got a first class dinner otherwise. That's nothing, we have known several fellows who almost every month this year have driven up to Columbus, a hundred miles away, after pie and returned empty stomachs.

The election is only two weeks away. As yet there is no evidence that politicians are losing sleep but when it comes to the friends and foes of Demon Rum, why they are furnishing enough strumosity to go around.

Growing Huntington. She has a skunk farm located within a mile of the corporation line and it is proposed that it be annexed to the city.

The esteemed Portsmouth, Virginia, Star is dead sure that the whole nation will approve if congress spends seven millions for strengthening the navy. Perish the thought that the fact that Virginia, Portsmouth, cultivates a navy and ship building yard has anything to do with its thought.

Rev. J. Wesley Hill made some brilliant forays in sky-piloting, politicking, speculating in Wall street and divers other things, but he came to grief when he spoke sweet nothings to a widow and then forgot.

Illinois contemporaries are hoisting of the fine strawberries they are eating. Sounds good, but how will their lasters be working when the spring crops ripen?

German arimes are making some extensive travels for their health, and reading between the lines, not for that of the other fellows either.

Belgium is said to be still clinging affectionately to America. Which merely shows she knows where her bread and butter is still coming from.

There is a difference in everything. Senator Hoke Smith wants full appreciation of the moonshine in his speeches, but he can't understand why all this row about the moonshine found on his premises.

Contractors Sheridan and Kirk, who are building the government dam three miles west of the city began pouring concrete again Monday.

Tom Marshall is said not to covet his present job for a second term. Even he, brilliant and aggressive as he is, finds the obscurity of the vice-presidency hard to break through.

We again repeat that persons writing communications to The Times must sign their names, same to be printed with the card. That is fair to the paper and fair to its readers.

Largest registration in the history of Cincinnati is reported. Evidently there is going to be some voting down there on the prohibition question. Will history repeat itself?

Villa Janes he has been killed, and so do the horde that he hung for trying to make it true, bear mute testimony that he is very much alive.

Nothing but what has its defects, as lamented by a contemporary with the remark, that the drawback of the movies is the star can not display her gold teeth.

It may be remarked in passing that the play ground movement seems to have lost its zest.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.
 O.O. MCINTYRE.

New York, Oct. 19.—Admiral Peary has been the victim of some good natured joking since he made his perilous drop through the air of 1,200 feet during his first voyage to the heavens in an aeroplane.

When he finally reached earth, the Admiral said: "It was thrilling, but I thought everybody came down that way."

Secretly, he said, if he had known he was rushing to instant death he would not have been so buoyant. It reminded him of the Irishman in the railway collision who thought that trains "always stopped like that."

The experience also proved that you may go to the North Pole and yet have something to learn about going.

Winsor McKay has at last found what he believes is the true specimen of complete intoxication. A neighbor of his at Sheephead Bay came home early the other morning with the top of a coal hole and tried to play it on his phonograph.

The Liberal Club is all in a flutter over the new marriage ceremony that has been offered by the Rev. Bouck White, the parson Socialist. The Liberal Club is down in the artistic shadows of Washington Square. The patrons talk the uplift bla-bla and some of them raid churches.

The new ceremony does not in any obvious way change the status of the man and woman with respect to each other. It seems to constitute no more than a ritual obligato to their own initiative.

It is a self dissolving bond and critics say it is only shortly removed from the free love propaganda.

Street speakers for the suffrage cause in New York have found that heckling has given away to sympathetic comment and encouraging applause. "Broadway treats us as philosophers and Wall Street like friends and guides", says Miss Eleanor Braman, one of these speakers.

Miss Rose Bower, like young Lochinvar, comes out of the West to help the East win votes for women. Instead of a steed, she brings her trusty cornet and skims about the city in suffrage automobiles, tooting lustily for the cause and making speeches in between times.

The speakers have found that their most interested audiences are the young Russian Jews who read the best books on sociology and kindred subjects and contribute to our music.

If the stranger in New York is a devotee of musical comedy—and there are only one or two running this season—he may find his heart's desire at the Hippodrome production of "Hip-Hip-Hooray." It offers all of a dozen diverting musical comedies for one admission to say nothing of scenic spectacles, extravaganza and matchless ballets.

R. H. Burnside, the master of the hip revels, has achieved the impossible in stage settings. No play has ever been talked so much about and the amount of publicity—special stories and news articles—received by the house has astounded press agents.

It is the first advent of John Philip Sousa into the "two a day" and the bandmaster is beginning to look like a regular Broadway actor, even to the fur coat and spats. It will keep him in New York all season which he says is much better than galavanting around the country with a troupe of trained musicians.

The Chez Fysher Cabaret, closed in Paris on account of the war, is to be transferred to Broadway. A building has been leased at No. 121 West 44th street. Mme. De laza, the star dancer, is here and will appear in the production. A lot of French cabaret singers are in New York jobless and with no prospect of employment in sight. They patronize the table d'hotes and give real Parisian atmosphere to the places.

MAJOR SMITH COMING

Major Dan Morgan Smith, a dry creator of prominence, will deliver his famous lecture against the open saloon in Trinity church next Saturday evening, at 7:30 o'clock.

A Knock-out Blow
 The Prohibition Amendment gives liquor men 15 months to change occupations. Does booze give the man it knocks out 15 months on pay to find another job? Vote dry No. 2nd.

Lazyville
 Way over there in Lazyville, Close by the Land of Dreams, The breezes loiter o'er the hill Where the sunshine softly gleams.
 The Road to Nowhere stretches wide.
 The trains of thought run slow Across the Hills of Hope that hide The town of Maybe-uo.

The town of Maybe-so is built Of fancies all untrue. Its turrets or resplendent gilt Rise to the sky so blue 'Tis there that hearts grow faint and sore.
 And strife is never still. 'Tis there you wish that you once more Were back in Lazyville.
 —Charleston Gazette.

Behind the Times
 "John was a good man", said the disconsolate widow, "but he was so old-fashioned to the last."
 "How so?" asked the sympathetic friend.
 "Why, he got killed by a runaway horse."
 —Albany Argos.

We Can Act Like Lady, But Not Like Gent

The following ice cream social notice has appeared:
 "Ice cream, coffee, sandwiches and all sorts of fruit will be sold under the direction of the different Ladies' Aid Societies. Prizes valued at many dollars will be given to the winners of races, etc. All who will behave like ladies and gentlemen are cordially invited to be present.—Akron Beacon Journal.

The Proof
 "Can shellfish be taught to do anything?"
 "Why not? I've often seen a clam bake dinner."

A Fast Mover
 Three days after the storm struck Posh, Okla., Jackrabbit Smith, a prominent citizen, was discovered two counties northeast in a somewhat ruffled condition.
 "Were you blown here by the cyclone?" he was asked.
 "Herk, no!" he replied. "I outran it!"—Kansas City Star.

Breaking It "Gently"
 Riley—So Casey was killed indirectly by the explosion. Who broke the news to the widow? Rooney—"Twas big Tim Houlahan as did it. Riley—Did he do it gently, and by degrees? Rooney—"Truth, he did them. He began by askin' her to marry him."

Speaking of Eggs
 The young wife was endeavoring to be practical and up-to-date.
 "Have you read that article on how to tell a bad egg, George?" she inquired of her husband.
 "No, I haven't, dear. But my advice would be, if you have anything important to tell a bad egg, why—break it gently."

Just a Jokelet
 Mary and Tommy had been to hear a missionary talk at Sunday school.
 "Did he tell you about the poor heathen?" father inquired at the dinner table.
 "Yes, sir", answered Mary. "He said that they were often hungry, and when they bent on their tummums it could be heard for miles."

Wouldn't Want His Job
 Pat and Mike were cruising the Delaware river on a ferry boat. They were watching intently a big dredging barge that was sending its mammoth scoops under the water and bringing up tons of mud.
 "Pat", says Mike, "wouldn't you like to be a worker over there on that mud digger?"
 "Yes", says Pat, "but begorra. Old hate to be one of the fellows under the water that's fillin' up them sho'vers."

England with mixed feelings, counting on the heels of rumors of a possible withdrawal from the Gallipoli Peninsula. In the best informed circles, however, the appointment as commander-in-chief of Major General Sir Charles Munro is interpreted as an indication that the campaign will be prosecuted with renewed energy, as the county has great confidence in the new leader's ability.

Paris, Oct. 19.—Three German attacks with hand grenades last night to the northeast of Bouchez were completely repulsed by the French forces, according to the French official statement given out by the war office this afternoon.

More Troops For Balkans

London, Oct. 19.—The decision of the entente powers to send large reinforcements to the Balkan front is indicated in a dispatch from Athens today to the Exchange Telegraph Company. It is said this decision has been communicated to the Greek government.

This information was conveyed the correspondent asserts in the form of a friendly note from the British and Russian ministers at Athens to the Greek government, in which the plans of the entente powers were outlined. The note is said also to have pointed out that the quadruple entente interpretation of Greece's treaty legislation to Serbia apparently was not in conformity to that of the Greek government.

Austrians Advance

Berlin, Oct. 19.—(Via London)—The Austrian army which is invading Serbia over the Save front along the northwestern border, apparently has its movement well under way after meeting with determined opposition from the Serbians. Army headquarters today announced the capture of the town of Obrenovatz. South of Belgrade, on the Danube front, the Austrians have made a further advance. The troops of General Von Gallwitz have occupied several points of strategic importance.

The war office also announced that the Bulgarian army of invasion had captured the Serbian town of Vranja on the railroad between Saloniki and Nish.

Bulgarians Lost Heavily

Paris, Oct. 19.—Heavy losses for the Bulgarians in the fighting which preceded the capture by the allies of Strumitsa is reported in a dispatch from Saloniki to Milan as forwarded to the Havas News Agency. It is asserted that entire battalions of Bulgarians were annihilated by the Franco-Serbian forces.

"WAS JUST HANGING BY A THREAD," SAYS GEO. M. WALTERS

Statistics go to show that in this age of high prices of the everyday necessities of life, the average working man who has a family to support, pretty nearly lives up his weekly wage or salary. Therefore forced idleness is of serious consequence to the average man. He must in the very nature of things, everlastingly stay "on the firing line."

"I was in such a shape that I had concluded to lay off from work," states George M. Walters, "when I bought the first bottle of Tanlac. The result is that I didn't have to lay off, and am right on the job every day, with renewed energy. For three years past I have had stomach trouble. Nothing gave me relief. This surely is the 'Master Medicine.'"

Mr. Walters is an employee of the Portsmouth Paving Brick Co., and lives at Fifteenth and Findlay Sts. This is one of hundreds of statements that are being made daily in reference to the famous medicine Tanlac. Those in all walks of life are speaking words of praise and gratitude.

Most of the ailments attacking mankind today are due to man's faulty method of living. A large percent of both women and men of today are inclined to overindulgence in both eating and drinking. Over-eating is the worst enemy the American people have today. By curbing the appetite, and using Tanlac, most of the diseases affecting the vital organs can be conquered.

Tanlac proves most effective in stomach, liver, kidney and intestinal disorders, also catarrhal affections and rheumatism.

Tanlac, the "Master Medicine," is on sale in Portsmouth at the Fisher & Streich Pharmacy, corner Sixth and Chillicothe Sts., where representatives are courteously explaining Tanlac. Adv.

THEY WANT WIDIN

Milan, (Via Paris) Oct. 19.—The correspondent of the Secolo at Bucharest telegraphs that the Serbians are striving to occupy Widin to prevent the Germans from establishing communication with the Bulgarians by the Lom Polanka route. The Serbian army is seeking to envelop the Bulgarian troops operating in the direction of the Timok river.

Speechless Banquet

San Francisco, Oct. 19.—"A Speechless" banquet in honor of Thomas A. Edison is to be given by telegraphers at the San Francisco Commercial Club tonight. At each speaker's place a telegraph key with miniature poles to carry the wires around the table has been arranged. The addresses of welcome are to be ticked off to Mr. Edison, who is expected to respond in data and dashes. The menu is written in the Morse code of telegraphy.

The Movies

Marie Tempest in "Mrs. Plum's Pudding," Columbia Tonight. "Sins of the Mothers," Tomorrow.

One of the funniest of all comedies ever put in motion pictures is Marie Tempest in "Mrs. Plum's Pudding," a five reel comedy scream at the Columbia tonight.

Did you ever see a million dollars spouting out of the ground? It has happened many times in the Pennsylvania, Oklahoma and California oil country and it happens in "Mrs. Plum's Pudding," a five reel Universal three comedy featuring Marie Tempest, the famous English comedienne, which comes to the Columbia this evening.

Thursday has been set aside as "Edison Day" at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. Tomorrow night Mr. Edison is to be the guest of honor at a banquet tendered by the telegraphers of the city.

LIGHTS WILL BLAZE EDISON'S WELCOME

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 19.—Arrangements were completed for a popular demonstration in honor of Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, who was due to arrive from the east today to visit the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

San Francisco's reception of Mr. Edison is to take the form of a general illumination of the city tomorrow night which, it is announced, will be on a scale never before attempted here.

AVIATION CRAFT THE LATEST KIND

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 19.—The trial by court martial of Lieutenant Col. Lewis F. Goodier, judge advocate of the western department of the army, was expected to begin here today. Lieutenant Colonel Goodier is charged with having altered or added to charges preferred by army officers against Captain Arthur S. Cowan, commanding the signal corps aviation school at San Diego. The charges against Captain Cowan alleged that for two years he drew the pay of an aviation officer, or thirty-five per cent more pay than a line officer of his rank, when he was not an aviator, and had been sent to San Diego merely as an executive officer.

Ready To Start Work On New Warships

Washington, Oct. 19.—Construction was ready to begin today for the largest number of ships ever awarded by the navy department at one time. These contracts will for the construction of sixteen submarines and six destroyers at a total cost of $4,923,434.

The contract calls for delivery of the vessels in from 18 to 20 months. All of the destroyers will have a minimum speed of thirty knots an hour and a displacement of 1,125 tons each. They will each have a battery of four 4-inch rapid fire rifles, two anti-aircraft guns and four triple torpedo tubes to discharge the heaviest and largest torpedoes now built.

The submarines will have surface and submerged speeds of 14 and 10 knots, respectively, with a displacement of 580 tons. Each will be equipped in addition to torpedo tubes, with a three inch disappearing rifle for surface shooting.

Get Your Victrola Now

By a special arrangement with the Victor Company, we have secured FIFTY NEW STYLE VICTROLAS. Between now and Xmas we will probably receive thirty more—if we are lucky. The greatly enlarged plants of the Victor Company are unable to supply the demand for this SUPREME MUSICAL INSTRUMENT and we predict the usual winter shortage.

If you are planning a Victrola for Xmas, it will pay you to give us your order now, while our stock is complete. A very small payment will hold your instrument, in its original packing until the time you want it delivered. Our terms, guarantee, and service cannot be equalled.

You buy an established, proven instrument from a reliable firm that gives satisfaction and service to every customer. "Ask the man who owns one."

The greatest artists in the world make records only for the Victor—for a purely sentimental reason. They realize that with the Victrola and Victor records, their voices and instruments can best be recorded for the entertainment and enlightenment of future generations. They know that the Victor is supreme.

Come in and hear some of the latest musical gems. We shall be pleased to play anything you want to hear, with no obligation to purchase. There is no pleasure in having a talking machine unless you can get the records you want. We carry a stock of four thousand records for your convenience.

screen, millions will now be enabled to follow his side-splitting antics and his unimitable methods of comedy portrayal. The subject selected for Mr. Bernard's introduction to the motion picture public, "Poor Schmaltz," presents him in the hilarious role of a German wig-maker, who becomes the principal agent in a series of exasperating comic adventures, and it is certain that this characterization will rank with the popular star's greatest comedy creations and be recorded as one of the foremost travesty triumphs of the screen.

Blanche Sweet in "Stolen Goods" is the good show tomorrow. This is a return engagement, and many who were turned away at the initial showing will have a chance to see this wonderful picture, which is one of Miss Sweet's greatest triumphs.

Thursday brings a beautiful Southern romantic story in five reels on the Metro Program, "Marzo Covington," featuring that distinguished portrayer of Southern types, Mr. Edward Connelly. The story is by Geo. Ade and a happy mixture of romantic drama and sunny Southern comedy.

"Salomy Jane," a magnificent 7-reel production from "The California Motion Picture Co., featuring Beatrice Mitchell and House Peters, will be the big attraction on Friday and it will be something too good for you to miss. The admission will be only ten cents, afternoon and night.

The Exhibit, "The Human Chain"
Word that a package of guns valued at $30,000 reposes in the express safe at the Oceanic office causes Deering and his gang to plot to gain possession of the guns. Deceiving Helen out of the station, Deering makes her a prisoner while another member of the gang rifles the safe and secures the package. Helen, however, later seizes the package from the crook's hands and hurls it into the river. Throwing the girl aside, Deering and his men jump into a launch in their effort to recover the guns. Accompanied by Morton and a couple of truckmen who are attracted to the scene by her shouts for help, Helen rushes to the trestle which spans the river a short distance away.

The girl telegrapher sees the package floating down the stream towards the bridge. While the railroad men form a human chain, Helen climbs down and tries to catch the package with her feet. Deering and his gang arrive at this moment. Not only do they obtain the guns, but also holdy Helen from the arms of the man supporting her. While the wharf rats launch speeds down the river, Morton halts a freight train. His story ceases the engineer to cut his locomotive loose and speed down the track along the water's edge in pursuit of the crooks. Unaware of this pursuit, the wharf rats attempt to land. They are captured by the train crew after a hard battle and Helen is released.

"The New Butler," one of the latest, and "Playing the Game," a very exciting and thrilling production, fill out the Exhibit for tonight. Here's where you find embodied the different styles of pictures and you can have a good time for their five cents, the price of admission.

FANATICISM

Does Not Hesitate To Lie

"A new movement has arisen in this country; they call it Prohibition. It is a fad; it is not going to hurt the liquor traffic, it is not going to hurt anything but temperance, and I am in favor of quitting this open temperance movement while our cred- it is good, because fanaticism will not hesitate to lie, man may grow lachrymose over the bar of drunkenness, and it will all be like the mountain that was in labor to produce a mouse."—(Judge B. F. Caples.)

The above is borne out by the wild statements of the Drys, in their campaign against Home Rule last year. Can any proposition advanced by them, be depended upon? Vote "NO" on Prohibition.

If our State had gone Dry last year, there would have been no end to the spouting of Dry orators that Hamilton county must bow to the will of the majority. Ohio went wet and now we hear that "rum soaked Cincinnati is controlling the State." Ohio would have had a wet majority without the Cincinnati vote, but it's any old excuse for being licked. Cincinnati collections must be bad for the Anti-Saloon League.

And we haven't yet heard from the Drys, why they told so many untruths about the Home Rule Amendment last year.

If Prohibition is so fine, why aren't all the Drys wealthy and all the Wets poor?

KEEP AN EYE ON THEM

Paris, Oct. 19.—A Havas Agency dispatch from Athens, dated Monday, quotes the governmental newspaper Neos Asty as saying that the Greek government is following with the greatest interest the development of military operations on the Serbo-Bulgarian frontier in proximity to Greek territory. The recent council of Greek ministers adopted measures to be taken in the event that these operations bring the Bulgarians into Greece, an eventuality which the paper says, the government will not tolerate.

REFUSED TO DISMISS THE INDICTMENTS

New York, Oct. 19.—Federal Judge Hunt today denied a motion made last week by William Rockefeller and his ten co-defendants charged with violating the Sherman law as directors of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, to dismiss the indictments on the ground that they did not show sufficient evidence of conspiracy.

The judge informed the attorneys for the defendants that they had the right to renew the motion at any future time. Federal Attorney Batts concluded his address to the jury this afternoon and the case was adjourned until tomorrow.

Lodges May Go To Old G. O. B. Site

Plans for the remodeling of the Grand Opera House building have been forwarded to The Kresge company of Detroit. This firm is desiring for the corner room of the building and if a lease is taken on it they will open a 5 and 10 cent store.

The third floor is to be converted into a lodge room and it was learned Tuesday that Massie and Magnolia Lodges, K. of P., are among the local lodges figuring on securing a lease on the top floor. The dimensions of this room will be 65 by 130. The plans are expected to be back in Portsmouth Saturday.

COUNCIL NEWS

The ordinance approving final plans for the flood wall extension and repairs to the Point will be up for passage at the city council meeting Wednesday night.

ADMIRAL PEARY HAS THRILLS IN AIR

Admiral Peary ready to go up in flying machine.

Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the North Pole, had his first trip in the air a few days ago, when he was taken for a flight of several minutes' duration by Frank A. Burnside, a young American aviator, flying a Curtiss flying boat at Long Branch, N. Y. The famous explorer had a most thrilling experience. When the machine was at an altitude of 2,000 feet the motor stopped. The machine tipped suddenly to the left, righted itself, and Burnside guided it in spiral swoops downward until it rested on the water. Those on shore, who had seen the machine tip and then begin its spiral downward, sighed with relief.

THOUGHT PIANO PLAYING A BEAR GROWLING

For fully fifteen minutes Miss Minnie Carley, a stenographer for the Reliable Engine company, lay in bed speechless from fright and imagined an escaped bear from the street fair was in an adjoining room playing a piano late Monday night.

The frightened young woman finally heard something stirring that sounded like a raincoat.

Mustering up enough courage, she aroused the lady of the house, Mrs. O. A. Case, of 119 Madison street. She found J. W. King, a carnival man, pounding the piano and singing "Where the River Shannon Flows," bringing down his fist with every repetition of the word flow. She called Officer Harding and he arrested the drunken man. King was fined $10 in police court Tuesday.

FISH THAT COYLE CAUGHT HAD A BASS INSIDE THAT WEIGHED POUND AND HALF

John Coyle is a fisherman and has always been regarded as a man of veracity so question not his latest fish story, which he insists is absolutely true.

While fishing in the Ohio river opposite the old water works on Mill street Monday afternoon Coyle, who lives on Front street, caught a 12 pound blue sturgeon, a rare fish in these waters, fishermen claim.

Before Mr. Coyle's enthusiasm of making the clever catch had diminished he was given another surprise. When he cut said sturgeon open what do you think he found, a ten dollar gold piece or a Teddy Bear? Not much.

Why he just found another fish, a sturgeon?

No, a bass that when weighed tipped the beam at 1½ pounds. Mr. Coyle to substantiate his double catch saved the sturgeon and its prey, said bass and proudly exhibited them to Henry Faivre, president of the truth-telling Hamor Club.

After making an investigation of the unique catch Mr. Faivre upheld every statement made by Mr. Coyle, who is the same gentleman who six weeks ago killed a copperhead snake that had concealed six of its little ones in its "tummy."

WATER

Another important feature is the water used in working oleomargarine.

Its proper use is most essential for the production of the finest goods, and like all other products that are used in this plant, the water is the purest that can be obtained.

The water we use is from private rock drilled wells, which careful analysis has proven absolutely pure.

In addition to this, all the water is distilled and aerated by the latest, most scientific processes.

We make our own ice from this water. You can feel sure that both the ice and water which is used in this factory contains nothing that is in the least injurious.

SOCIETY

The forty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Portsmouth Reading Club was celebrated last evening by an elegant banquet at the Washington Hotel. The beautiful affair was arranged by Mrs. Harry W. Miller, Miss Ruth Thompson and Mr. B. H. Dillon, who made every effort to make the affair the most delightful success that it was. The elegant menu was beautifully served in eight courses. The table was in the shape of a large U, where covers were laid for forty-two guests. The decorations were pink roses and the pink rose shaded candles, and the dainty favors were pink rose-shaped baskets filled with pink bonbons. The guests were received in the prettily decorated parlor by Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Tremper, Miss Anna Ross and Miss Clara Waller. Some out-of-town guests, who were charter members of the club, were present, as follows: Mrs. Enos B. Moore, who has been spending the past year in London, England, and

Mrs. Maggie Jones Mason, of Cincinnati, who is visiting Miss Mary Peckles, and with other out-of-town guests former members of the club. Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Herron, of Cincinnati, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Miller, of Charleston, S. C., were in line to receive the guests. A distinguished guest and honorary member was Mr. S. R. Ross, who is now in his ninety-seventh year and still enjoys social affairs as do the still younger members of the club. Other special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Edgar E. Draper, former members of the club. Those present of the regular members were Senator and Mrs. W. D. Tremper, Dr. and Mrs. R. O. LeBaron, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Coe, Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Rardin, Dr. and Mrs. G. Howard Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Miller, Dr. and Mrs. George Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Gilliland, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Schwartz, Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Dunning, Dr. and Mrs. A. R. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Searl, Rev. and Mrs. E. Ainger Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Mark W. Selby, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. D. Soudner, Mr. B. H. Dillon, Misses Thyrza Spry, Anna Ross, Alice Duda, Clara Waller, Mary K. Reed, Ruth Thompson. The members who were unable to be present were Mr. and Mrs. George D. Soudner, who are in Cincinnati visiting relatives, Miss Gladys Evans, who is in Cincinnati; Mr. Roger Selby, who is ill with typhoid fever; Mrs. Frances Helfenstein, Miss Thyrza Spry, Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Doty, Mrs. N. W. Evans and Mrs. Mary S. Cotton, who is out of the city. This was indeed a happy gathering of members of the oldest and one of the finest clubs of the city. The club was organized at the home of

NEW SONG WITH QUAIN MELODY

New York is ringing with a new song called "Could the Dreams of a Dreamer Come True," which is quite a craze with the fair sex. It is written by Jack Brannan, and is on the order of his previous successes, "In the Valley of the Moon" and "Virginia Lee." Although the song is written in only one octave range it possesses a number of quaint harmonies which lend a fascinating effect when sung. Here is a part of the chorus:

Could the Dreams of a Dreamer Come True

Could the dreams of a dreamer come true, Sweetheart, could the dreams of a dreamer come true?

There'd be mountains of gold, there'd be treasures untold, There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold.

There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold, There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold.

There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold, There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold.

There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold, There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold.

There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold, There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold.

There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold, There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold.

There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold, There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold.

There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold, There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold.

There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold, There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold.

There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold, There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold.

There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold, There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold.

There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold, There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold.

There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold, There'd be a world of love, there'd be a world of gold.

You get an unbeatable combination when you take a good soap and then add that wonderful cleanser—naptha. That's what you get in

FELS-NAPTHA

The soap softens the water, makes good suds, loosens the dirt. The naptha and other harmless cleansers dissolve the grease, make the dirt disappear and whiten the clothes.

Use Fels-Naptha for all soap-and-water work.

important branch of industry in the regions in which they grow.

Dear Miss Dolly—Have been keeping steady company with a girl four months. Would it be proper for me to give her a watch, bracelet or ring? HEN.

Follow the general rule that nothing having a permanent value should be given by a man to a girl unless they are engaged.

Dear Dolly—I am a girl of seventeen and am in love with a man of forty-one. At times he seems to think a great deal of me and at times he doesn't. He does anything that I ask him to do. Please advise me how to win his love. BLUE EYES.

Don't try to win his love. You are far too young to care for a man of that age.

Dear Miss Wise—My hair comes out in handfuls and I fear I will be bald ere long if it isn't stopped soon. Can you give me a remedy? LUCY.

Wash the hair in pure castile soap, brush it nightly and apply the following tonic to arrest the falling: Rose water, 8 ounces; tincture cantharides, 1-2 ounce; glycerine, 2 ounces; witch hazel, 8 ounces; bay rum, 12 ounces. Half of this quantity is sufficient for home use. Apply to the scalp between small parts in the hair with a long narrow brush.

Dear Miss Wise—I am a blonde, twenty-three years old and have been keeping company with a young man of twenty-eight for about three months. He is in every way a gentleman and does not smoke or use any kind of liquor. He is always kind to me and wants me to be his wife, but he has such a bad temper I am afraid to marry him. I love him, but the thought of that makes me hesitate. RACHAEL.

I think you ought to know the man longer before you decide to marry him. If, after a year, you feel that you love him enough to put up with his temper you might marry him.

Dear Dolly—Is it proper to congratulate both bride and groom after a wedding, or just the groom? WANT-TO-KNOW.

The groom is congratulated while "best wishes" are given to the bride.

Dear Miss Wise—My face is covered with black heads. Do you know of any easy way to get rid of them? MARGARET.

To cure blackheads, make an ointment of one ounce of soap liniment and one ounce of ether; mix. At night scrub the face thoroughly with hot water, using a complexion or other soft brush. After wiping, apply the mixture to each of the spots and let it remain on over night. Wash off in the morning with hot water. Continue until the spots have disappeared. Then twice a week wash the face with this mixture, removing the liquid at once by rinsing with clear water. If there are large pores, wipe over each with a little alcohol.

Dear Dolly—Some time ago I was made acquainted with a young man two years older than myself. We went out together several times. I thought that I was most too young to go with any boy friends at that time. But now as I am older I am allowed to go with whoever I please. I think an awful lot of this man and I think he thinks the same of me for he seems glad to see me when we meet. My parents think he is the only one, and they think more of him than of the man I am now going with, and I myself do not like him as well. I want to know if you think it would be all right for me to write to this other one and ask him to call? MORNING GLORY.

Do not write, but when you see him again ask him to call some time. It will not appear so arranged.

Dear Miss Wise—I am going to ask you to again print a way to make grape juice. EAST END READER.

Grape Juice—First stem and wash grapes. Put in kettle over fire with enough water to cover fruit, cook until all are mushy, stir often. Put into cloth bag to drain; do not squeeze. After juice is all drained out, put on fire, heat, add granulated sugar to taste, let come to boil. Seal in fruit jars or bottles. If bottles are used, dip in hot paraffin after bottles are cold.

Dear Miss Wise—Can you suggest something that will relieve the pain of a burn? DAN.

Burns are caused by pressure. Wear a broad, not pointed shoe. Apply two or three times each day an ointment composed of 12 grains of linoline and 1-2 ounce of spermaceti.

SOCIETY

A very dainty party, consisting of twenty-six guests, was given at the home of Miss Stella Bishop, on Campbell avenue, Monday evening, in honor of her cousin, Miss Flossie Blair, of Sherwood, O. Those present were: Misses Lorena McGuire, Grace Robinson, Meredith Morrison, Flossie Blair, Lois Turner, Hattie Robinson, Carrie Robinson, Bessie Elbert, Berta Vaughters, Anna Bishop, Ethel Cooper, Helen Worthington, Stella Bishop and Laura Bishop; Messrs. Ralph Riddlebarger, Albert Shonkwiler, Paul Saville, Edwin Geiger, Heber Geiger, Carl Riddlebarger, Charles Sheridan, Earl Riddlebarger, Bert Bishop, George Tatum, Jesse Bishop, Jesse Richardson and J. M. Bishop. Light refreshments of different fruits were served. The evening was spent in playing games and music. All departed at an early hour, leaving their many thanks to Miss Bishop for the good time they had.

A delightful evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lechbaum, on Grace street, Monday evening, when a number of the daughters of America, to which order they both belong, formed a surprise on Mrs. Lechbaum, it being her twenty-fourth birthday anniversary. It was a complete surprise to Mrs. Lechbaum, but the ladies came prepared to serve a dainty luncheon, to the following guests: Mesdames Benny Hans, Luther Hall, John Meeks, Jesse Buchle, Dave Truman, Joseph Fitch, George Griffin, Loren DePriest, H. A. Felty, Homer Braden, Fred Cross, D. W. Adams, Miss Martha Peiry, Master Josey Fitch, Master Harold Utten and Mr. and Mrs. Lechbaum and son, Harold. At a late hour the guests in departing wished Mrs. Lechbaum many more happy birthdays.

A surprise miscellaneous shower was given for Mrs. E. D. Lewis (nee Margaret Ross) at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ross, on Seventh street, Friday evening. The evening was greatly enjoyed by all present. The guests were as follows: Miss Hilda Parker, Elsie Hoxey, Bertha Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ross, Mesdames Andy Resinger, Arthur Brown, Roy Prather, Alva Schultz, Peter DeLotell, Lawrence Daniels, E. F. Clay, Henry Schied, Henry Lewis, Emma Raymond, Fred Besco, Lizzie Wagoner, Frank Fultz, Elva Montgomery and Emma Montgomery. Mrs. Lewis received many useful and pretty gifts.

The C. O. U. class of the German Evangelical church held its regular monthly business meeting last evening at the home of Miss Margaret Hans, 312 Offshore street. A short business session was held, after which a social hour was spent and refreshment were served by the hostess. Those present were: The teacher, Miss Ida Bender; Emily Bender, Mabel Born, Marie Torges, Helen Grassman, Esther Muller, Edna Korth, Mabel Knust. During the social hour Howard Hans played several selections on the saxophone, which were greatly appreciated by the class. The next meeting will be at the home of Miss Helen Grassman, some time next month.

Mrs. Andrew Fieller and Mrs. Leonard Fieller, of Columbus, will arrive tomorrow night to visit Mr. and Mrs. Charles Daehler, of Eighth street, and will remain until Saturday.

Mrs. Mary Stringfellow and Mrs. R. L. Burton, of Wellston, and Mrs. D. C. Grimes, of Trenton, were guests Sunday of Mrs. Sarah McDaniel, of John street.

Mrs. George Youngman entertained the Progress Club at her home last evening, with Miss Leora McNamara as assisting hostess, in place of Mrs. Edson Tener.

The program was as follows: Autobiography of Good Jokes—Miss Julia Nichols. Philosophy of Wit and Humor—Miss Elizabeth Rockwell (in place of Mrs. Tener). Tushmaker and Toothpuller—Miss Lenora McNamara (in place of Miss Nolle Goddard).

The usual social hour followed the program and a dainty repast was served by the hostesses.

Quickest, Surest Cough Remedy is Home-Made

Easily Prepared in a Few Minutes. Cheap but Guaranteed.

Some people are constantly annoyed from one year's end to the other with a persistent, irritating cough, which is wholly unnecessary. Here is a home-made remedy that gets right at the cause and will make you wonder what became of it. Get 3/4 ounce of Pinex (30 cents worth) from any druggist, pour into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Start taking it at once. Gradually but surely you will notice the inflammation in a painful cough with remarkable rapidity. Ordinary coughs are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, winter coughs and bronchial asthma. This Pinex and Sugar Syrup mixture makes a full pint—enough to last a family a long time—at a cost of only 54 cents. Recipe perfectly and taste pleasant. Easily prepared. Full directions with Pinex. Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Pinex which is extracted, rich in quinine, and is famous the world over for its ease, certainty and promptness in overcoming bad coughs. Get the genuine. Ask your druggist for "3/4 ounce Pinex," and do not accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. THE STORY OF CRISCO—Chapter 7

It pays to buy Crisco because Crisco costs but half as much as butter and less even than the better grades of lard—yet it is as good for cooking as the best of creamery butter.

It pays because Crisco gives better-tasting, more easily digested foods than lard can give. This economy of the digestion cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

It pays because Crisco will not "spoil" but will remain fresh and pure as long as you want to keep it.

The tastiness of Crisco foods will be described in next Thursday's advertisement.

The Westminster Guild of the Second Presbyterian church met last evening with Miss Helen Sprague, of Third street. The next meeting will be with Miss Mary Davidson, on November fifteenth.

A meeting of the Ladies of All Saints Aid Society was held yesterday, at two o'clock, in All Saints chapel. Several new officers were elected. Mrs. Harry Donnelly, the former president, has resigned, and Mrs. William Oldfield was appointed to fill her place. Miss Margaret Firminstone was elected treasurer, which office had been held by Mrs. Oldfield.

Mr. R. Forrest, road-master for the Norfolk and Western railroad, left Sunday on an inspection trip.

Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Herron, who came here to attend the Reading Club Banquet, are guests of Mr. S. R. Ross and Miss Anna Ross.

Mrs. E. B. Moore, who came here for the banquet given by the Reading Club, has gone to Malden, W. Va., to visit her son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. John Carpenter, who recently came home from a trip to California and Honolulu. At Honolulu they were the guests of Mrs. Carpenter's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William Love.

Misses Lillian and Gertrude Russell, Joe Kerrigan and Clarence Steubley motored to Wheelersburg and spent the day there.

Mrs. F. W. Chase left this afternoon for Rio Grande, O., to attend the funeral of Miss Carrie Davis, a former school friend. Miss Davis was the daughter of Dr. J. M. Davis, who has been the president of Rio Grande College for several years and is a great educator. The funeral will take place tomorrow, at three o'clock.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church will meet tomorrow afternoon, at two o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Charles Losh, 725 Court street.

The Home for Aged Women wish to extend, through the press, their thanks for the donations of Messrs. Koerner, Harsha, Daehler, Clare, Freund, Leichter and Jordan, and all donors during the Korn Carnival, to their booth, also to the young men at Zaehner's store who put up the booth, and all who assisted at the booth. The money made was $117.25. Store money from Mr. Krauss amounted to $55.23. Mrs. George Appel was the president of the board and Mrs. L. B. Davis, secretary.

Miss Edna Wiget, of Oakland avenue, is home after spending the week-end with friends in Columbus.

Mrs. Augusta Sappington, of Chillicothe, is visiting at the home of Mrs. Marvin Clark. She will leave Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Altman's home tomorrow and remain with them until Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Grimes will leave this evening for their home in Wheeling, W. Va.

The Matron and Maid Club met this afternoon with Mrs. Will Burke.

The Friday Afternoon Sewing Club will meet Friday with Miss Bess Pixley. This is the first of the fall meetings.

Misses Grace Johnson, J. Cynthia Womack and Mildred Likens spent Sunday at Seletsville with Mr. and Mrs. Singleton.

Mrs. A. A. Canter, of Oak street, entertained with a six o'clock dinner Monday. Covers were laid for the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hense and daughters, Janet and Elizabeth, Miss Mabel Treat and Mr. Vogel Emmert.

Miss Agnes Schenck has resumed her duties as stenographer at the Vulcan Last Company's office after a few weeks' vacation.

Mrs. Bessie Barklow and two children, Doris and Bessie May, of St. Paul, Minn., are the guests of Mrs. Barklow's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Williams, of 1126 Kinney's Lane.

The Hamilton Whist Club met with Mrs. L. D. York, of Rose Ridge this afternoon. The substitutes were Mrs. Harry Miller, Mrs. Milton Longfellow, Miss Ruth Thompson and Miss Elizabeth Watkins.

Miss Mary Sommers has returned home after a pleasant week-end visit with the Misses Jennie and Sara O'Connor, at Otway.

The Buckeye Club picnic, which was to have been held at Crichton's Inn, Thursday, has been postponed on account of the weather.

After a pleasant visit with Mrs. Matilda Irwin and Mrs. Edwin Hyatt, Mrs. George Wise has returned to her home in Butler, N. Y. Mrs. Wise was accompanied as far as Columbus by Mrs. Irwin, who visited Mr. James Irwin and Miss Mary Irwin, of Linden Heights.

WOMAN ASKS DAMAGES

In a petition filed in common pleas court Tuesday by Attorneys Holcomb and Holcomb, Emeline Jones claims that Hiram Seth has been assuming unlawful possession of three tracts of land, 13.4 acres in all, in Clay township, which, she says, belong to her. She wants $100 damages for being denied possession and judgment for $150 for rents which she alleges Seth has collected and damage to the property.

Coffee Dwarfs Children Physically--Mentally

Prominent School Workers Assert Coffee Drinking School Children are Undersize, Underweight and Backward in Studies

The State Board of Health of Texas has been making inquiries into the effects of coffee upon school children. "Children who drink coffee for breakfast," says one report, "come to school exhausted, they work strenuously in the morning, and are overworking with energy and vitality, BUT THEY DO NOT LAST under the school routine; they become fatigued more quickly than the other pupils, and by the close of school in the afternoon they are exhausted to the point of stupidity. They are nervous and therefore unstable in the deportment."

It has also been found by other investigators that "children who drink coffee averaged from one and one-half to more than four pounds less in weight, and from one-half inch to more than one inch less in height, than the children who abstained from coffee. They were also found to have an average of three pounds less in hand strength than the children who never drank coffee."

NOTE—Many parents have found it to their children's advantage to give them Instant Postum as the hot morning beverage instead of coffee. This delicious food-drink resembles coffee in looks and flavor, but is entirely free from the disturbing coffee drug, caffeine, or any other harmful ingredient.

HARRY BYBEE TO MARRY

Harry Bybee, an old Portsmouth boy, was in the city shaking hands with friends Monday evening. He was on his way from his home in Norfolk, Va., to Winchester, Ky., where he is to be married tonight to Miss Ethel Perryman. Mr. Bybee is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bybee, former residents of this city.

N. & W. TELEGRAPHERS DISCUSS CO-OPERATION

H. K. McIlroy, a well-known N. & W. operator, has returned from Roanoke, where he attended an important meeting of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers of the Norfolk and Western Railway. More than fifty telegraphers were present. Mr. McIlroy is chairman of the Seaside Division of Telegraphers. Probably the most important matter of a general nature under consideration by the telegraphers at this time is a proposed plan to form a co-operative organization of the five principal brotherhoods having to do with the transportation department—the Telegraphers, Engineers, Firemen, Conductors and Trainmen. The plan has been adopted on several systems already and so far has produced excellent results from all standpoints. The plan is entirely different from the old idea of federation and involves exactly what the name implies—co-operation, and that at the option of the various organizations. While nothing definite has been done by any of the Norfolk and Western organizations, it is said to be a fact that all are considering the proposition.

On their way to Columbus Mr. and Mrs. Herder and Mr. and Mrs. Dole will stop off at Piketon to attend the funeral of their relative, Mrs. Jacob Schuster, who was killed Monday in a runaway accident.

Says He Cut Negro In Self Defense

Pomp Commodore, the negro, who was stabbed during a fight with Percy Brown, also colored, in Paradise alley, Monday afternoon, was reported better at Hempstead hospital Tuesday. Brown's hearing was continued until Thursday. He claims to have cut the other man in self defense and has a slit in the back of his coat and a badly gashed hand as marks of the encounter from wresting the knife out of Commodore's hand. Brown hails from Charlottesville, Va., and has been working in a railroad camp near Seletsville. Ernest Brown is held as a witness.

The Hamilton-Peebles Reading Room, long a well known institution of this city, in which its native sons for years dropped in to enjoy good reading and to rest, is going to be sold in Columbus on November 18. The sale of the property, a two-story brick structure, will be conducted by Charles E. Belcher, administrator of the Rachel R. Hamilton estate.

GROCERS HALF HOLIDAYS END

The Thursday afternoon half-holiday, which has been in vogue since last spring, will be discontinued by the grocers of the city, beginning next Thursday, October 21. It will be observed again next spring and summer, beginning May 1st. Several of the grocers made an effort to have the half-holiday observed throughout the winter, but were forced to give up the idea when a few of the leading grocers in the city refused to become parties to the agreement, which had been signed by over half of the grocers.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

The real secret of keeping young-looking is to keep the liver and bowels active. Without these organs the system is clogged, the blood is impure, and the skin becomes sallow, dry, and wrinkled. The liver and bowels work as they ought, without producing any of the usual effects of overactivity. There is a prescription of a vegetable tablet which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is largely to be seen in the fact that it has been called "vegetable calomel" because it is not to be classed with the real calomel of medicinal origin. There is no mercury in it, and it is not a cathartic—that is, it does not cause the system to purge itself. It is a gentle laxative, and its action is to keep the liver and bowels active, and the blood pure. It is a very simple remedy, and it is as effective as any other. It is an old remedy, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

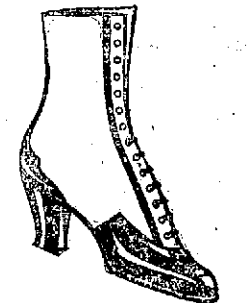

(Manager of Health.)

Indigestion, eruptions, pimples, blotches, sallow or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a congested blood, and a retained blood stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which do little or nothing to remove the cause. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy, and it is as effective as any other. It is an old remedy, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

After any of the advent of the "vegetable tablet" as a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its character over calomel and the usual laxatives.

SENTIMENT AT MEETING UNANIMOUS FOR A KORN KARNIVAL NEXT YEAR

Final settlement of the affairs of the Korn Carnival was postponed until next Monday evening by the directors of the Business Men's Association in session Monday evening. A few bills are yet to come in during the week. Close checking by the directors indicate that they will about break even on the carnival, with the possibility of a small surplus.

WOMAN HIT BY MACHINE SUFFERS SERIOUS INJURIES

Mrs. Gertrude Higgins, a domestic employed at the home of Mrs. Cornelia Baker, of 824 Second street, was run down and seriously injured by a Ford automobile, driven by John Lutz, of 1030 Fifth street, near the corner of Second and Chillicothe streets, shortly after 5 o'clock Monday evening.

She was hurled to the paved street with great violence, sustaining an injury to her head in the fall that rendered her unconscious for over an hour. She was also severely bruised about the shoulders and it is thought was internally injured.

Mrs. Higgins was picked up by bystanders and carried into the Pure Drug Company's store in the Turkey building, where she laid in an unconscious condition, unidentified, for over two hours. No one wanted to assume the initiative of having her removed to the hospital for fear that her relatives, when they were ascertained, would want her taken home.

Finally, about seven o'clock, Mrs. J. E. Carr identified the shawl which the woman wore as one belonging to Mrs. Baker, her neighbor, on Second street. Mrs. Baker was notified and identified the injured woman as Mrs. Higgins, who had been working at her home since last Friday morning.

Arrangements were then made for her removal to the Hempstead hospital. The city service wagon came, but later Lutz's ambulance was called and the woman was taken to the hospital in an ambulance.

In the meantime Dr. W. E. Gault had attended to her injuries at the Pure Drug store. She had been made comfortable on a Davenport in the rear of the store, where she was resting easily when the ambulance arrived.

The gash in her head was an inch and a half long, and cut deep into the flesh. Blood flowed freely from the wound, and it was with difficulty that the flow of blood was stopped.

Dr. W. E. Gault stated Monday evening that her wounds were not fatal, and at the hospital Tuesday morning it was stated that she would recover. Her condition had improved greatly during the night.

MAYOR MUST STAY ON BEAT

Mayor Adam Frick has determined upon a new policy with regard to any police officers who might go wrong on anything in connection with their official duties in the future.

Instead of shifting offending officers to some other beat, or district, as has been the custom when officers became the subject of persistent complaints, the mayor has ordered that such officers be kept right where they are and be made to correct the conditions complained of. It is then up to them to make good or automatically lose their positions.

Action Of Delegates Ratified At Meeting Of Labor Council

Members of the Central Labor Council, at the meeting Monday evening, unanimously ratified the action of the delegates from this city to the convention of State Federation of Labor at Mansfield relative to the protest against the seating of P. D. Laudemann as a delegate.

The controversy has caused an open split among some of the union men in the city. An invitation was issued to Judge Henry Niel, author of the Mothers' Pension Law, to come to Portsmouth and deliver an address in this city on Tuesday evening, October 26, at Distel hall on Gallia street.

This meeting will also be addressed by Max Hayes, editor of the Cleveland Citizen, and will be open to all voters of the city, who are urged to attend.

Harry Strong, business agent of the Building Trades Council, was obligated as a delegate to the Council from the carpenters' union.

A communication from the National Child Labor Committee relative to the child labor law in Georgia, was read. It was voted to request the local newspapers to print the communication, which is given in full below:

"There will be no adequate enforcement of the Georgia child labor law for at least another year. The governor has just called the legislature in extraordinary session but there is no mention of the bill to provide a factory inspector among the six subjects for legislative action. At present the Commissioner of Commerce and Labor is charged with the enforcement of the child labor law in addition to the collection, collation and dissemination of information and statistics concerning labor in its relation to capital, location, capacity and output of the mills and factories; quantity of raw material used by them annually; location and horsepower of valuable water powers, etc., etc., for which work he is provided with two office assistants.

"The bill providing for an assistant factory inspector to enforce the child labor law was favorably reported by both House and Senate committees at the last session and the governor was urged by the Department of Labor, the labor unions and other friends of child labor reform to include it in the program for the extraordinary session.

"This is one of the occasions when we realize more strongly than ever that a federal child labor law is the most important goal in the campaign against child labor," said Dr. A. J. McKelway, the National Child Labor committee's secretary for the southern states, who has just returned from Atlanta.

"For years we have fought to improve the child labor law in Georgia and last year we did succeed in raising the age limit from 12 to 14, with the exemption for poverty raised from 10 to 12 years. But now the state refuses to provide for the enforcement even of that mild law. If we had a federal law we would not have to take action. The law could be enforced by federal inspectors."

Owls Will Boost Carnival This Week

Monday evening's meeting of the Owls was brief so as to permit the members to attend the Ben H. Kline carnival on the West End mill lot, which is being held under their auspices.

The carnival opened Monday evening, but some of the attractions were unable to get ready for the opening night, and will not get started until this evening.

The hearty endorsement of the local Owls is given the carnival. Everything is new, and the company is in fact getting ready here this week for the winter tour through the South. The shows are all clean and worthy of patronage. The crowd Monday evening was satisfactory to the management and the local promoters.

Several other members of Aurora Lodge are planning to attend a part of the two days' session.

Here's New Vigor For Overworked Stomachs

Wanderer Brand, the popular drugstore, have been in the drug business long enough to have their own opinion of the best way of selling medicines. They say the plan adopted by M-O-M, the great dyspepsia remedy, is the fastest they have ever heard of. They don't believe that a medicine can be sold for less than it does the user some good. And M-O-M is sold under a positive guarantee to relieve dyspepsia or to refund the money. You simply leave 50 cents on deposit with Wanderer Brand, and if, after you have used the box of M-O-M, you decide that it has done you no good, all you have to do is to tell them so and they will return your money.

Hundreds of people have been relieved of stomach troubles by using this remarkable remedy. It is not simply a food or a digestive organ into normal condition and gives rapidly, glowing, vigorous health. A chance for the better will be seen after the first few doses of M-O-M, and its continued use will soon give the power to eat anything at any time and not suffer distress afterward.

M-O-M is sold under a positive guarantee to relieve dyspepsia or to refund the money. It is the strongest proof that can be offered as to the merit of the medicine.

Nothing lessens a man's success in his work or a woman's fascinating personality more than a weak stomach, with its attending evils. 1500 M-O-Ms and see how much more there is in life.

ECZEMA BROKE OUT ON FACE

Got Worse and Worse. Disfigured for Time Being. Caused Itching, Scratching and Irritation. Used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. Face Free from Eczema.

127 Emily St., Saginaw, Mich.—"Several months ago my face broke out with eczema. It got worse and worse; it was a sight, all red and bleeding. The doctors figured me out for the time being. I was caused much itching and of course I scratched my face and irritated it.

"I took a treatment but it did not seem to help any. I used several kinds of salves and soaps and they did no good. My face began to get worse. My brother said to go to the drug store and get a cake of Cuticura Soap and some Cuticura Ointment which I did. I then washed my face with Cuticura Soap and applied the Cuticura Ointment and kept this treatment up for some time. After using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and the Cuticura Ointment my face was free from the eczema." (Signed) Ray L. O'Brien, June 15, '14.

DIVORCE QUESTION THURSDAY

Dentists Conclude Meeting With Banquet; Papers Read

Thirty members and guests of the Southern Ohio Dental Society sat down to an enjoyable banquet Monday evening at six o'clock, served by Caterer Adam Seal. The banquet was one of the pleasing features of the semi-annual meeting of the society, which was held Monday afternoon and evening.

Portsmouth's dentists proved themselves capital hosts to the visiting members of the profession, many of the physicians of this city, who were invited guests during the entire meeting. Short talks of appreciation were made by Drs. Parsons, Kail and Langfit of Huntington, at the close of the banquet.

The banquet over, the members and guests adjourned to the Hempstead Academy room, where the final session was held Monday evening. This session was featured by an excellent paper by Dr. Hugh McMillan of Cincinnati, on the subject, "The Anatomy of the Oral Cavity and its Relation to Local Anesthesia." The discussion was led by Dr. G. H. Williamson of this city, and provoked a general discussion, in which the majority of those present took part.

The next meeting of the society will be held next spring, at a place to be determined upon later.

MR. LAUDEMANN AGAIN REPLIES TO ACCUSERS

Editor Times: I am again compelled to ask permission to correct through your columns the statement made by the Home Rule supporters in last night's Times.

The first lie, wherein they state that I was not exonerated, proves itself absolutely or infers that the chairman was lying, that the record of proceedings are untrue, or that I was treated unfair, because I demanded the floor after the grievance committee reported to show that I had proven to the committee the real cause of the Portsmouth trouble, but was refused the privilege to explain by President Voll on the grounds that their verbal report did not allude to me, and that I was exonerated. While my intentions were to show to the convention that the signers of the protest had made admissions to the grievance committee that would explain exactly where they stood. I will say further that President Voll personally told me that such a case should never have been brought into the convention at all.

If it was not a wet or dry fight why would Chairman Wagoner have asked me if I had made any dry speeches, or if I had promised to make any, what other motives would have prompted such a question.

As to the hissing I am satisfied no one but Home Rule delegates took part in that, and if they did they showed their intelligence and respect that they held for the reputation of the convention. And if it was not a wet and dry issue why was the hissing done only at the time I was demanding to be recorded as voting against the wet resolution.

I deny slandering any officer of the central body and stand ready to take oath to anything I have said, and I hope to see you all do the same on the things you have said about me.

The denial again by Mr. Strong of what he stated to the committee is only another proof of his habit that I understand he is now a past master in.

I have been informed since coming from the convention that he was expected by his organization to vote against either a wet or dry resolution, and I expect he will tell them, and that you will raise your right hand and take off your hat to impress them that he obeyed orders, but Thursday morning's proceedings will show just who voted against that proposition, and if he had not nerve enough to go on record in carrying out his instructions he had better admit it rather than deny it.

Now as to the moving picture men promising to double their force of operators and working their half time with full pay, it need only be said that you seem long on accepting promises and make good business agents, but the majority of union men of Portsmouth would prefer signing a written contract of conditions rather than promises. It seems strange that I should have had such an easy time as you say in getting the Labor Day celebration, since there were five on that committee, and the fact that the Building Trades committee was very much interested in having our cooperation at the park, and that Harry Strong appeared personally before the central body on behalf of the building trades and half of the building trades and the other half of the building trades and the other half of the building trades.

But why do the delegates deny that they made the charges as printed in the protest, or insist that they are untrue, since the officers of the boiler-makers and blacksmiths have taken oath to the fact that I had nothing to do with this business.

Now since you are back home, why don't you tell how the various organizations are influenced by the socialists as you did in Mansfield, so they can tell you what they think of you?

Why don't you tell them how Mr. Prout, the organizer of the Boot and Shoe Workers, told the convention that I was the cause of the United Shoe Workers getting backing in Portsmouth during the last strike, and tell them who told him to make that speech while you sat in your seats like cowards, knowing that every one of you represented organizations that helped the strikers, and if I was guilty of anything on that score you all were likewise.

But that is a sample of how you betrayed the workers and were ashamed to admit your position just to further humiliate me. I am sorry I was not allowed the permission of explaining the truth on the floor, but I can imagine you were glad.

Why don't the gentlemen who told Prout that I took an oath never to wear a pair of union-made shoes tell the people of Portsmouth that so the shoe dealers with whom I have dealt can tell who is doing the reckless handling of the truth.

Your article in the Times refers to Mr. Oakes, who, you say, I brought in the case at Mansfield. In what way do you claim I did it, when you filed the letters referring to your attack on him as evidence against me, when you are fighting him because he is working dry.

And if you did not frame that deal on me because I was not wet, why was Henry Ott, the organizer of the Home Rule League, consisting several weeks before the convention, and why was Henry Ott and Wm. Abrahams, also of Home Rule League, the only two delegates who went with you, when the chairman asked these interrogatories in the case to appear. Again I ask the public not to take my word for this proof but ask the members of the organizations they mention, and read the printed record of the convention, and also review the record of all concerned in this controversy and draw your conclusion.

And in regards to the outstretched hands you speak about waiting for me to change facts and come back I can only say the hands that greet me back will surely have to be cleaner than the hands you showed during the past. Again thanking the union men of Portsmouth for their past confidence and thanking the Times for use of your columns. I am,

A Message To Thin Weak Scrawny Folks

An Easy Way to Gain 10 to 30 Pounds of Solid, Healthy Permanent Flesh

Thin, nervous, undeveloped men and women everywhere are heard to say, "I can't understand why I do not get fat. I eat plenty of good nourishing food." The reason is just this: You cannot get fat, no matter how much you eat, unless your digestive organs assimilate the fat-making elements of your food instead of passing them out through the body as waste.

What is needed is a means of gently urging the assimilative functions of the stomach and intestines to absorb the oils and fats and hand them over to the blood, where they may reach the starved, shrunken, run-down tissues and build them up. The thin person's body is like a dry sponge—eager and hungry for the fatty materials of which it is being deprived by the failure of the alimentary canal to take them from the food.

A prominent citizen of Alliance, O., writes: "For years I suffered with excruciating pains. One leading druggist recommended Amolox. I bought one box of ointment and two bottles of the liquid and one cake of soap. After a month's treatment I am completely cured. It has been several months since using it and my face is perfectly smooth, with no sign of a return of the trouble."

GEORGIA CYCLONE GIVES AN EFFECTIVE DRY TALK

Making one of the most impassioned pleas for a saloonless Ohio that has been heard here in many months, Mrs. Mary Harris Armour thrilled an audience that almost taxed the capacity of Trinity M. E. church Monday night by her magnetic personality and her ability to throw every ounce of energy into her work. Playing the open, so-called model license saloon in an unmerciful manner, summoning statistics to her aid, Mrs. Armour easily proved herself to be one of the best dry speakers heard in this or any other wet and dry campaign ever waged in Portsmouth or Scioto county.

Styled as "The Georgia Cyclone" because of the vigorous manner in which she rolls up her sleeves and goes after the saloon, she was not very deep in her subject last night until every one in her big audience was willing to admit that there was appropriateness in her campaign name.

Speaking under the auspices of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of this city, Mrs. Armour firmly ingratiated herself into the affection of those who heard her.

Gifted with a voice with strong carrying power, a woman who is thoroughly familiar with every angle of her subject because she has made a careful study of the wet and dry situation Mrs. Armour made one of the most sensible and convincing speeches for the drys that has been delivered here in recent years.

This pyrotechnical, magnetic woman literally swept her audience off its feet last night by her eloquence and word paintings of incidents that she claimed should be sufficient proof that the saloon must go.

"Do you know why the saloon is on its way?" asked Mrs. Armour of her audience at the outset.

"Why I will tell you. It has been condemned at the bar of science, at the bar of justice and at the bar of righteousness. When the scientists woke up and told us how harmful the liquor traffic was then we began to realize that the curse and menace to our homes, factories, health and happiness must go," she said.

"Do you realize that the liquor traffic is now on trial in your state? Well it is and every voter in Ohio is on the jury and the verdict will be returned on Tuesday, November 2. On this day you men by your ballots will decide whether King Alcohol will live or die in your progressive state. The evidence is before you. You can do but one thing, wipe out the liquor traffic."

"The greatest criminal of the age is the liquor traffic. Some of you men need to be hit between the eyes with a brick bat to wake you up to the real situation. I don't say all of you but many of you need this heroic treatment. Anything that is nauseating to me is to hear some mealy-mouthed idiot say that he doesn't know how he is going to vote, he's on the fence. Well, this kind of a man is never on the fence. He hasn't energy enough to get on the fence. He is so small that he crawls under the fence or through a knot hole. I'll tell you the liquor traffic is doomed. The hand writing is on the wall. The whole United States will be dry in five years."

"Ohio didn't vote wet last year. It just stayed wet, that's all. It has always been as wet as the Atlantic ocean, but a new light has been seen this year. Ohio is going to embrace prohibition on November 2 just as sure as I am standing before you tonight."

"Of all the tommyrot and balderdash that makes me sick is the claim of the wet element that such statesmen as George Washington and Thomas Jefferson were opposed to prohibition. This statement is an insult to any one's intelligence. Were either man living in this enlightened age I dare say he would be leading the dry cause. Not a vote is made by such a scurrilous statement."

"The personal liberty feature of the wet campaign always amuses me. It's so funny. Let's look in to this personal liberty boom-craze for a moment. Remember when Congress passed the Harrison Narcotic bill? Its enactment takes away all narcotics from drug fiends. Did you hear any of them whimper because their drugs were cut off by this just and fair bill? Of course you didn't. Then why in the world does the liquor men harp so everlastingly on this personal liberty misnomer."

Disagrees With Wayne B. Wheeler

"I was talking to Wayne B. Wheeler Sunday and for the first time I disagreed with him. He told me that he believed that the personal liberty feature of the wet leaders had lost its effectiveness, that it was not the vote making instrument of old. I told him that it was and it is. Let me tell you that the personal liberty gag is just as live today as it ever was. When men will wake up to the realization of the fact that liquor is their worst enemy then there will be no more saloons."

"The theory that whiskey will keep away disease is nothing short of brutal. Liquor today is what is making your graveyards fat."

Rheumatism
A Home Cure Given by One Who Had It

In the spring of 1897 I was attacked by rheumatism and inflammatory rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedies after remedies, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even crippled with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case. I was every sufferer from any form of rheumatism trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Best and a cure simply by mail. Your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be the best remedy for means of curing your Rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Don't delay. Write today.

Invited To Circleville

Directors of the Korn Carnival and Portsmouth people generally were extended a cordial invitation to attend the Pumpkin Show at Circleville last three days of this week through a letter received from the committee by the Business Men's Association. The local directors were requested to run a special train one evening, but it was not undertaken.

Several automobile parties will go to Circleville during the three days from this city.

The ancient threnody belief that whiskey will help a poor consumptive is barbarous. Whiskey will kill any consumptive. Statisticians show that it will. Alcohol today my friends, is recognized as the most potent factor we have in the propagation of disease. If you do not believe it just get the report of 43 insurance companies, who recently issued a statement relative to the lives of 2,000,000 insured men. It will tell you what risks they have taken with men who are addicted to whiskey and other so-called stimulants.

Mrs. Armour also attacked the theory that whiskey was a food and a stimulant. "The best specialists tell us that while whiskey stimulates for a few minutes it is followed by a depressing feeling that is ten times more harmful than the short stimulative period produced by it."

Mrs. Armour was introduced by Mrs. C. C. Coventon, county chairman of the W. C. T. U., who also acted as chairman of the meeting.

MEXICANS KILL THREE--ROB TRAIN

THREE TRAINS HELD UP BY EASTERN BANDITS

U. S. TROOPS IN PURSUIT

Brownsville, Texas, Oct. 19.—Inspired by race hatred as well as desire for loot, twenty Mexicans who claimed to be followers of Luis De La Rosa, leader of the so-called "Texas revolution," held up and robbed a train near Olmito, seven miles north of here late last night. As a result three men are dead, another is probably fatally wounded and several others are seriously hurt. The bandits are believed to have escaped into Mexico. The zone of the robbery was three miles from the Rio Grande. The Mexicans as they fired at the train crew and passengers shouted "Viva Pizano, Viva Carranza."

The train, a southbound passenger train on the St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexico railroad, was wrecked before being attacked. United States soldiers took part in the duel with the bandits and detachments of troops pursued them when they fled. The dead: Corporal McBee, third U. S. cavalry, shot; Engineer H. H. Kendall, pinned beneath engine; unidentified young Mexican passenger shot by Americans after robbery for aiding robbers. Mr. E. S. McCain, deputy state health officer at Brownsville, was shot in abdomen and injured probably fatally.

How much loot the robbers obtained is not known.

A discharged United States soldier appeared at Olmito shortly after midnight and reported the train had been fired upon and that the engineer and several other persons had been killed. The sheriff and a posse started in automobiles, and special train, carrying two companies of infantry started to the scene. A troop of cavalry left shortly after, and followed by an auto truck carrying a detachment of infantry.

The first definite information received at Fort Brown said that a band of seventy or eighty Mexicans pulled out a rail from the track and the engine and baggage car went into the ditch. Mexicans then swarmed on the train, it was reported and looted it.

A long trestle half a mile south of the wreck was set on fire after the train had been held up and

BULGARIANS CLAIM TO HAVE CUT RAILROAD; DARDANELLE CAMPAIGN HAS A NEW LEADER

London, Oct. 19.—Italy has declared war against Bulgaria, but the question whether she will send troops to join the British and French forces in Serbia remains as obscure as the results of the fighting on Serbia's eastern frontier. The Austro-German armies which occupied Belgrade appear to have advanced more than fifteen miles south of the city, but the outcome of the fighting between Bulgarians and Serbians along the important Saloniki-Xish railway cannot be summed up so easily.

At two points the northernmost, which is Vranjin, the Bulgarians report they have reached this railway and are reported to have driven back the Serbs. Both Athens and Paris maintain that French troops have occupied Strumitsa in Southern Bulgaria, but there have been no official reports relating to the struggle in this quarter, and none is expected until the fighting reaches a conclusive state.

Removal of General Sir Ian Hamilton from command of the Gallipoli force was received in England with mixed feelings, considering the fact that the Gallipoli campaign has been a costly failure. The removal of General Sir Ian Hamilton from command of the Gallipoli force was received in England with mixed feelings, considering the fact that the Gallipoli campaign has been a costly failure.

Postoffice Robbed

Springfield, Ohio, Oct. 19.—Robbers dynamited the safe of the Yellow Springs, Ohio, postoffice early this morning, securing between $300 and $400 in cash and $100 in stamps. Three armed men stood guard over the postoffice while others did the robbing. Residents who made their appearance were threatened with their lives. The robbers made their escape in an automobile.

KEEP AN EYE ON THEM

Paris, Oct. 19.—A Havas Agency dispatch from Athens, dated Monday, quotes the governmental newspaper Neos Afs as saying that the Greek government is following with the greatest interest the development of military operations on the Serbo-Bulgarian frontier in proximity to Greek territory. The recent council of Greek ministers adopted measures to be taken in the event that these operations bring the Bulgarians into Greece, an eventuality which the paper says, the government will not tolerate.

SIX MEN LOOT TWO FREIGHTS

New York, Oct. 19.—Six armed men held up and robbed two freight trains and attempted to rob an American express train on West Shore railroad at the entrance to a tunnel between Congers and Haverstraw, N. Y., early today. After loading an automobile with packages, taken from the two freight trains, the bandits escaped.

Arriving at the mouth of the tunnel in an automobile the robbers tampered with the wires controlling a signal and caused the light to show red. This halted the first freight train and as it stopped the hold up men appeared beside the locomotive and covered the engineer and firemen with revolvers. They then ripped open several freight cars and selected such packages as they wanted, loading them into their automobile. They then ordered the engineer to proceed.

The second freight train was held up and robbed in a similar manner. When the American express train stopped at the red signal the robbers neglected to station a man at the locomotive and all of them went back apparently with the intention of breaking in to one of the cars. As soon as they were out of sight the engineer opened the throttle and started the train.

You Bet He Was Aged. The looted trains were stopped at West Haverstraw, the next station north from the scene of the hold-up, and the crews gave the first news of the robbery. An electrician who was sent from Congers to repair the damage to the wires discovered the bandits opening the packages. He was saved by a display of revolvers. Sheriff Servey, of Rockland county, and others attempted to pursue the fleeing robbers in an automobile but were able to trace them only as far as Hackensack, N. J. The New York police were notified to be on the watch for the party at all the ferries crossing the Hudson river. They detained one party of youths, returning from a club meeting in New Jersey, but soon released them.

AVIATION GRAFT THE LATEST KIND

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 19.—The trial by court martial of Lieutenant Col. Lewis F. Goodier, judge advocate of the western department of the army, was expected to begin here today. Lieutenant Colonel Goodier is charged with having altered or added to charges preferred by army officers against Captain Arthur S. Cowan, commanding the signal corps aviation school at San Diego. The charges against Captain Cowan alleged that for two years he drew the pay of an aviation officer, or thirty-five per cent more pay than a line officer of his rank, when he was not an aviator, and had been sent to San Diego merely as an executive officer.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Formal recognition by the United States of General Carranza as the chief executive of the defacto government in Mexico today awaited the presentation of a note to Eliza Arredondo, his official representative here. With this action goes a renewal of diplomatic relations between the two countries.

This day was set apart by the diplomatic representatives of the governments participating with Secretary Lansing in the Pan-American peace conference for actual extension of recognition. These countries included Brazil, Chile, Argentina, Bolivia, Uruguay and Guatemala.

All of these nations were to act in accord with the United States, and it was expected that other South American countries not represented in the conference, as well as the European powers, will follow suit.

With the form already decided upon by the conference, all that remained today to complete the act of recognition was the writing of a note by each of the governments represented, to be presented to General Carranza through Eliza Arredondo, notifying him of such action.

Mr. Arredondo, upon receipt of the note, plans to leave here at once for Saltillo to personally convey the note to Carranza.

Following recognition an embargo to factions opposed to General Carranza goes into effect immediately.

Attorney General Resigns Position; Asquith Is Sick

(BULLETIN)
London, Oct. 19 (1:02 p. m.)—Premier Asquith has suddenly become ill. His state of health will require withdrawal from public activities, at least for a few days.

London, Oct. 19.—Great Britain is waiting anxiously to learn whether the cabinet ministers will be able to compose their differences and continue the government without swapping horses in midstream. The military difficulties which confront the Allies have taken a position of secondary importance for the time being.

The cabinet has been holding long and frequent meetings since the Balkan crisis developed. Both newspapers and politicians agree that vital differences of opinion have arisen over the conscription issue and the near-east question. In the meantime party newspapers are carrying on a bitter debate and exchanging accusations of lack of patriotism and of placing party and private interests above those of the country.

The resignation of Sir Edward Carson, attorney general, was the first proof of difficulties in the cabinet. The reason assigned for his withdrawal is disagreement with the cabinet's policy in regard to the near-east, but the specific point of division is withheld, as in the case of the retirement of Foreign Minister Delcasse of France, in whose footsteps Sir Edward appears to follow.

New Jersey Women Battling For Ballot At The Polls Today

Newark, N. J., Oct. 19.—The fight for women suffrage in New Jersey is on today. The polls opened at six o'clock this morning and will remain open until nine tonight.

Suffrage and Anti-suffrage workers alike claim victory. "Votes for Women," the former say, will win by 25,000. Women suffrage will be decisively defeated, the Anti-Suffrage leaders assert.

More than five thousand women watchers took their places at virtually every polling place in New Jersey today, prepared to challenge voters, if necessary, and otherwise to guard the rights of their co-workers for suffrage.

The last public plea for votes was voiced in this city at six o'clock this morning, the time for opening of the polls at the termination of a meeting where female speakers had addressed passersby.

Heavy eyed and weary the speakers went home, their work being taken up by scores of young women in automobiles who went through every section of the city to bring voters to the polls. Newark and Essex county, in which the city is situated, were the chief battle ground. If women win the ballot, they will have to wait until next year to vote as today is the last registration day before the November election.

SAFETY FIRST

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 19.—Delegates from fifty cities in the United States were gathered here for the opening today of the two days convention of the safety first federation of America.

Philadelphia, Oct. 19.—Safety first, not a dollar of dollars and cents, is a just effort to save human life and limbs, is the keynote of the fourth annual safety congress of the National Safety Council, which opened here today.

All Star Teams To Make Long Trip

Chicago, Oct. 19.—Baseball stars of the American and National leagues began arriving here today, preparatory to departure on tonight on a tour of the northwest and west as the All-American and All-National teams. Frank Bancroft, business manager of the Cincinnati Reds will be in charge of the players. The teams will lineup as follows:

Baseball Magnate Claimed By Death

New York, Oct. 19.—Robert B. Ward, head of the several big companies bearing his name in several cities and widely known as leader in figure in the Federal Baseball League and as president of the Brooklyn club, died today at his home in New Rochelle, after a brief illness, at the age of 63 years.

WILL MAKE GOOD

With the sale of Howdy Caton and Ralph Shorman the local club owners will have two big holes to fill next season. These lads were real stars and their sale came as no surprise. Both will make good if given the proper chance to deliver. Incidentally the sale of these two players enriched the local club's coffers $1250.

Feds Will Stick

The Federal league is out with a flinty sort of war declaration. President Gilmore announces that he didn't go to the world's series for a peace conference, but to see the gamblers. Mr. Gilmore also says that organized ball is wobbly, not the Feds; that the Feds have been tremendously successful, and will pursue their campaign this winter with unrelenting fire and fury.

The trading season will soon be on us. Manager Herzog of the Reds says he will place four ruminators on the block. The first to go will be Tom Clarke this said.

Badgers Are Given Scare

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 19.—The showing made Saturday by Ohio State against the strong Illinois team and Wisconsin's failure to run up a big score against Purdue, has given the Badgers a fine scare over next Saturday's prospects in the Ohio State-Wisconsin conflict.

GAMES NEXT SATURDAY

In Ohio football next Saturday there is no game of importance, or at least one that will rank up with the West-Dean-Miami one to be played at Oxford at the end of the present month. At the window of this week comes this layout: Denison at Cincinnati, Ohio Northern at Western, Oberlin at Case, Ohio at Otterbein, Miami at Mt. Union, Western Reserve at Akron, Wooster at Wittenberg and Anlioth at Kenyon.

Leach Cross, fighting dentist of New York, says he is not all in by any means. He has booked five fights to be staged in Gotham this winter. One of them will be with Willie Ritchie. Leach is evidently booking himself for a good landing.

Have Praise For Hobby

Eastern critics object to the statement that Ludovis outplayed Hoblitzel in the recent w. s. They insist that Hobby batted timely in the series and aside from one bad play when he was picked off first base played in brilliant form.

BIG TEAMS ROUNDING TO FORM

Playing to October form, the football teams of the leading colleges of the east came through the week end games without defeat, although the showing of the eleven was not in every case equal to the coaches' expectations. Harvard, Yale, Princeton and Cornell all won from opponents capable of testing to some extent the offensive and defensive strength of the big varsity combinations. Pennsylvania was not quite so fortunate, being held to a tie by the navy, which increased the confidence of the middles, since the army fell before the onslaughts of Colgate.

MINNESOTA IS PICKED

Some guessers have Minnesota coming out best in the Western Conference race. Zuppke's team plays Minnesota Oct. 30, Wisconsin Nov. 13 and Chicago Nov. 20. The capable little coach will have to travel along to get his eleven tuned for a complete clean-up, even if Fogue and Clark are returned to him. With them, or even one of the pair out, the staff seems to be off with Illinois, and it's no cliché that both of them will be able to drag the team through.

SHARMAN IS MODEST

(Cincinnati Times-Star) Ralph Shorman, the local boy who has been taken by the New York team, is modestly uncertain as to his big league chances. He thinks probably he will be sent to some Class AA or Class A club for another year's seasoning, and is quite willing to go. "Better have another year in the minors and be sure of success in the big show afterwards," says Shorman, "than to go into the majors too green and score a failure."

Victory Costly

DELAWARE, Oct. 19.—Victory over Western Reserve at Cleveland Saturday may prove an expensive one for the Ohio Wesleyan football eleven, which suffered unusually from injuries. Tackle White was today confined to bed by a badly sprained ankle, which may prove to be a fracture, which he sustained during the first three minutes of play. Center Becker, who entered the game with a broken nose, sustained a fracture of the member, while Center Stevenson, who replaced him, received a broken collar bone, with which he played the last few moments of the game.

Dee York On Crutches

Dee York, whose right leg was broken in football practice over two weeks ago, returned to high school Monday for the first time since his accident. He is hobbling about on crutches.

GEORGE CHIP HELD TO DRAW

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19.—Harry Greb of this city, held George Chip, former middleweight champion to a draw in a ten-round bout here tonight. Greb was in danger of a knockout in the first and fourth rounds.

Steve Royce Will Play

Steve Royce, the crack college pitcher who the Reds thought they had in 1914, but was bought by McGraw, and who afterwards resigned from the big show in order to study law, says he's going in again—that he will report to McGraw at Marietta, and do all he can to help the Giants upwards.

Mayor Wants An Expert To Check Up Waterworks

W. H. Ditto, chief engineer of the Ohio state board of health, before returning to Columbus, Monday evening, strongly encouraged Mayor Brick in the determined stand he has taken with regard to the acceptance of the city water supply plant.

"I shall see to it that not a nickel more of the people's money is spent in making any changes in the plant without expert advice and judgment," said the mayor. "I'll stay the acceptance of the plant until an expert checks it all over as to how nearly it complies with the specifications," added the mayor.

The mayor said he expected to recommend to city council that the services of an expert be engaged to check up the plant. The mayor added that he would not stand for any revision or changes in the plant unless they first met the approval of city council.

Mr. Ditto urged the mayor to stand pat on his position and also assured him that N. S. Hill Jr., of New York, would not steer the city wrongly in regard to the restoration of the reservoir for he was one of the most renowned engineers in the United States. Mr. Hill is the engineer the J. F. Witmer company has asked to come here and go over the situation.

The members of the board of control and Mr. Ditto spent considerable time going over the water works matter and also discussed the Sunnyside sewer system and the proposed Lawson Run trunk sewer, on which a start may be made next spring. Mr. Ditto felt that he and the city were coming to a better understanding. As to the reservoir he said it was not the most essential thing of a water supply plant. The state board, he said, assumed no responsibility as to the construction when it approved plans but simply insisted on requirements being met such as storage basin capacity, filter beds properly arranged, etc.

The mayor reviewed the whole water works project from its very beginning. He said it was deplorable that the services of the men composing the water works commission were passed up. He said they had spent many years investigating the needs and conditions, had secured the judgment of experts and certainly would have given Portsmouth something for a half million dollars and not a mere slapped up affair on the river bank or a reservoir hooked up on the side of a hill instead of back in the hill.

Beware Of Cars, Rails Are Slippery

The public in general should exercise extra precaution in crossing in front of street cars at this time of the year. The leaves are falling on the rails and a little dampening makes the leaves stick to the rails like grease and it is hard for the motorman to stop his car within a short distance. Sand is being used to good advantage, but sometimes it does not work. Drivers of wagons and automobiles should not cross in front of the cars when they see the cars in sight. Stops supposed to be made at corners sometimes are made at a distance from the corner, the car sliding along.

USE LESS WATER IN SPRINKLING

The mayor has suggested to the public service department that at this season of the year less water should be used for sprinkling streets. The sun's rays are not as strong as earlier in the season and the light evaporation keeps the streets and crossings in a mussy condition, while automobiles standing along curbs are bespattered with mud from passing machines.

NOW IT IS REGISTRATION PARTIES THAT ARE THE LATEST THING

A new wrinkle along the line of social ethics has been sprung in the past few days. "Registration parties" have come into our midst.

It is like this: Since the women have been given the right to vote on the question of school board and of course are required to register, there has been a flutter among the younger class of fair ones who are in the voting class, and, incidentally, some of them are having a lot of fun over it. They meet at the home of a mutual friend, their young friends of the male persuasion not excluded, and in a glittering bunch move upon the voting precinct, and with a world of charming giggles demand to be registered.

Some of them shy a little when the age proposition comes up, but as a rule they are game and tell the truth without hesitation. The Millport precincts are noticeable for these pleasant affairs. When the young women don't all vote at the same precinct, they move on in a body to the next voting place, to see that each fair sister gets a square deal at the hands of the registrars.

The registration of women has been very heavy in the East End precincts, chiefly among the wives, daughters and mothers of railroad men.

SAGE TEA PUTS LIFE AND COLOR IN HAIR

Don't stay gray! Sage Tea and Sulphur drenches hair so naturally that nobody can tell.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 60 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it drenches the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the sign of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and youthful appearance within a few days.

WORK IS NEEDED.

It will be a great thing for Portsmouth when the various roadways are again opened to travel. It will mean thousands of dollars more business for merchants, it will mean more country produce for the city people and it will mean better markets for the farmers. We thought of this Monday when in talking to a prosperous farmer from the East end of the county he said that for the past two years he had been doing his trading in Ironton because the roads leading into Portsmouth were so bad that he did not like to travel them. He said that most of his neighbors were doing the same thing. Asked if they would not come back when the road paving was completed and Portsmouth again easily accessible, he said that they would, to a certain degree, but that some had formed trade relations that it would be hard to break off. This shows that our commercial bodies forlorn have some work cut out for them. When the way is clear for travel they will have to go after the trade in sections that have been isolated and they will have to go after it in an earnest, systematic manner to win it back.

THE LIFE OF AN ENGINEER.

We used to have an ambition to be a locomotive engineer, and could imagine no finer moment than to bring a passenger train into the station, swing down from the cab with an oil can and proceed to oil up in the presence of the gaping crowd. Since reading a few statistics sent out by the bureau of information of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, we have revised our ambition for the last time. No engineering in ours. For instance it is stated that the average working life of a locomotive engineer is 11 years and 7 days. In the last 10 years the insurance department of the Brotherhood has paid out for accidental death incurred as a result of service nearly $5,000,000. For amputation of one or both legs for accidents on duty, $604,500. For amputation of one or both arms from accidental injury while on duty $265,000. The total for ten years from accidents alone was $6,574,500. Further than this it has been calculated that out of every 100 men who start as fireman only 17 become engineers, and that out of every 100 who finally become engineers only 6 become passenger engineers. As Grand Chief Warren S. Stone, of the B. of L. E., said in a recent speech, "the next time you see some grey-haired engineer leaning out of the cab of the engine that has drawn you safely to your journey's end, remember that he represents the sifting but process—the survival of the fittest."

SO NEAR AND SO FAR.

A visit to the ruins of the water works reservoir will show that had the wall been put down two feet deeper it would have rested in a solid foundation and so been secure for all time. Why this was not done, when the extra expense would have been no more than a few hundred dollars is one of those things past finding out. Especially does this become more difficult of understanding, when the break occurred at a corner, where the jointure made the wall especially weak and it must have been always apparent there was imminent danger of a slide there.

In fact, since solid rock lies only a foot or two under the bed of the reservoir, it would seem ordinary prudence would have dictated the carrying of the floor down to it in view of the known instability of the soil.

However, "the milk has been spilt", and the problem is to repair the damage as quickly and as sufficiently as prudent provision for the future will allow. The administration is taking hold of the matter resolutely and diligently and there is some assurance that a precarious situation will be ended in the shortest time and the best manner possible, with profit by the mistakes and carelessness of the past.

Those of you with champagne appetites can rest secure in the knowledge that the champagne industry has not suffered from the war. At least that is what the New York importers are saying. It is explained that the perfecting of champagne requires several years and takes place in bottles stored in cellars several stories under ground. In 1914 when the Germans were marching on Paris the entire champagne district in France was occupied by German soldiers, and yet, we are told "in no instance was there any destruction in the cellars of the champagne houses. After the battle of the Marne the Germans retreated leaving the stocks intact and the entire district in French hands. Since then enough champagne has been exported to America to care for all demands". So there now. You should worry.

One of the institutions of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad is its relief department. A circular just issued says that in the 35 years of its existence it has paid out in benefits $20,096,883. Of this sum $3,149,737 went to 335,364 employees for sick benefits and $5,029,180 as insurance indemnity on account of natural death. The sum of $1,440,000 was loaned to employees during the fiscal year of 1915 to assist them in the purchase of homes. That certainly is a fine showing, and fully in keeping with the broad policy of this railroad system in dealing with its employees.

The Balkans are in war flames, but it would scarce be accurate to say, as of old, that they are threatening the peace of Europe.

IN OTHER OCTOBERS

THE ETERNAL ITCH.

It is political gossip that "Billy" Mason is to be taken care of as assistant corporation counsel of Chicago, a small job for a small man.

Billy Mason is not an exception, he is a type. He is glib of tongue and such thoughts as he has run to office—for himself. Years ago, in a period of political aberration, brought on by agitation of Cleveland's pension vetoes, he got at the head of the squall and was elected senator for one term only, of course. If he were a persistent office-seeker before, he has been one doubly ever since. If there was anything on the calendar of jobs he wasn't begging for since, the records fail to disclose it. Anywhere from a "mentioned for the presidency" down to alderman, was attractive to him and he enjoys the championship for being the ofttest beaten man that ever ran for office. The habit still inheres in him and with this job assistant counselor on hand he is a prospective candidate for congressman-at-large and billed to maintain his unbroken record of defeats.

The best summing up of Colonel Roosevelt we have seen is made by a writer in the bulletin issued by the Central Press Association of Cleveland to its clients. Discussing the need of Americans to assert themselves in their own country, he says of Roosevelt "he has such a violent way of saying a sensible thing that his remarks are apt to be discounted." Could there be a more comprehensive judgment in as few words?

President Wilson motored 185 miles Friday to get some pie and didn't get it, though he got a first class dinner otherwise. That's nothing, we have known several fellows who almost every month this year have driven up to Columbus, a hundred miles away, after pie and returned empty stomachs.

The election is only two weeks away. As yet there is no evidence that politicians are losing sleep but when it comes to the friends and foes of Demon Rum, why they are furnishing enough strenuousness to go around.

The first class postmasters are going to assemble at Washington City next Wednesday. No doubt to show President Wilson he made no mistakes in picking out first class men for first class jobs.

There are at least 5,000 women in Portsmouth who are entitled to vote for members of the board of education. Out of this number less than 500 have qualified to vote by registering.

Illinois contemporaries are boasting of the fine strawberries they are eating. Sounds good, but how will their tasters be working when the spring crops ripen?

German arimes are making some extensive travels for their health, and, reading between the lines, not for that of the other fellows either.

Belgium is said to be still clinging affectionately to America. Which merely shows she knows where her bread and butter is still coming from.

There is a difference in everything. Senator Hoke Smith wants full appreciation of the moonshine in his speeches, but he can't understand why all this row about the moonshine found on his premises.

Contractors Sheridan and Kirk, who are building the government dam three miles west of the city began pouring concrete again Monday.

Tom Marshall is said not to covet his present job for a second term. Even he, brilliant and aggressive as he is, finds the obscurity of the vice-presidency hard to break through.

We again repeat that persons writing communications to The Times must sign their names, same to be printed with the card. That is fair to the paper and fair to its readers.

Largest registration in the history of Cincinnati is reported. Evidently there is going to be some voting down there on the prohibition question. Will history repeat itself?

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O-O-MEINTYRE.

New York, Oct. 19.—Admiral Peary has been the victim of some good natured joking since he made his perilous drop through the air of 1,200 feet during his first voyage to the heavens in an aeroplane.

When he finally reached earth, the Admiral said: "It was thrilling, but I thought everybody came down that way."

Secretly, he said, if he had known he was rushing to instant death he would not have been so buoyant. It reminded him of the Irishman in the railway collision who thought that trains "always stopped like that."

The experience also proved that you may go to the North Pole and yet have something to learn about going.

Winsor McKay has at last found what he believes is the true specimen of complete intoxication. A neighbor of his at Sheepshead Bay came home early the other morning with the top of a coal hole and tried to play it on his phonograph.

The Liberal Club is all in a flutter over the new marriage ceremony that has been offered by the Rev. Bouck White, the parson Socialist. The Liberal Club is down in the artistic shadows of Washington Square. The patrons talk the uplift bla-bla and some of them raid churches.

The new ceremony does not in any obvious way change the statistics of each other. It seems to constitute no more than a ritual obligation to their own initiative.

It is a self dissolving bond and critics say it is only shortly removed from the free love propaganda.

Street speakers for the suffrage cause in New York have found that heckling has given away to sympathetic comment and encouraging applause. "Broadway treats us as philosophers and Wall Street like friends and guides," says Miss Eleanor Brannan, one of these speakers. Miss Rose Bower, like young Lochinvar, comes out of the West to help the East win votes for women. Instead of a steed, she brings her trusty cornet and skims about the city in suffrage automobiles, tooting lustily for the cause and making speeches in between times.

The speakers have found that their most interested audiences are the young Russian Jews, who read the best books on sociology and kindred subjects and contribute to our music.

If the stranger in New York is a devotee of musical comedy—and there are only one or two running this season—he may find his heart's desire at the Hippodrome production of "Hip-Hip-Hooray." It offers all of a dozen diverting musical comedies for one admission to say nothing of scenic spectacles, extravaganza and matchless ballets.

R. H. Burnside, the master of the Hip revels, has achieved the impossible in stage settings. No play has ever been talked so much about and the amount of publicity—special stories and news articles—received by the house has astounded press agents.

It is the first advent of John Philip Sousa into the "two a day" and the bandmaster is beginning to look like a regular Broadway actor, even to the fur coat and spats. It will keep him in New York all season which he says is much better than galavanting around the country with a troupe of trained musicians.

The Chez Fysher Cabaret, closed in Paris on account of the war, is to be transferred to Broadway. A building has been leased at No. 121 West 44th street. Mme. De Luza, the star dancer, is here and will appear in the production. A lot of French cabaret singers are in New York jobless and with no prospect of employment in sight. They patronize the table de notes and give real Parisian atmosphere to the places.

Lazyville

Way over there in Lazyville, Close by the Land of Dreams, The breezes loiter o'er the hill Where the sunshine softly gleams.

The Road to Nowhere stretches wide.

The trains of thought run slow Across the Hills of Hope that hide The town of Maybe-so.

The town of Maybe-so is built Of fancies all untrue. Its turrets or resplendent gilt Rise to the sky so blue 'Tis there that hearts grow faint and sore.

And strife is never still 'Tis there you wish that you once more Were back in Lazyville.

—Charleston Gazette.

Behind The Times

"John was a good man," said the disconsolate widow, "but he was so old-fashioned to the last."

"How so?" asked the sympathetic friend.

"Why, he got killed by a runaway horse." —Albany Argos.

We Can Act Like Lady, But Not Like Gent

The following ice cream social notice has appeared: "Ice cream, coffee, sandwiches and all sorts of fruit will be sold under the direction of the different Ladies' Aid Societies. Prizes valued at many dollars will be given to the winners of races, etc. All who will behave like ladies and gentlemen are cordially invited to be present." —Akron Beacon Journal.

The Proof

"Can shellfish be taught to do anything?"

"Why not? I've often seen a clam bake dinner."

A Fast Mover

Three days after the storm struck Poncha, Okla., Jackrabbit Smith, a prominent citizen, was discovered two counties northeast in a somewhat rumpled condition. "Were you blown here by the cyclone?" he was asked. "Jeck, no!" he replied, "I outran it!" —Kansas City Star.

Breaking It "Gently"

Riley—So Casey was killed indirectly by the explosion. Who broke the news to the widdy? Rooney—"Twas big Tim Houlthorn as did it. Riley—Did he do it gently, and by degrassy? Rooney—Troth, he did then. He began he askin' her to marry him.

Speaking of Eggs

The young wife was endeavoring to be practical and up-to-date. "Have you read that article on how to tell a bad egg, George?" she inquired of her husband. "No, I haven't, dear. But my advice would be, if you have anything important to tell a bad egg, why—break it gently."

Just a Jokelet

Mary and Tommy had been to hear a missionary talk at Sunday school. "Did he tell you about the poor heathen?" father inquired at the dinner table.

"Yes, sir," answered Mary. "He said that they were often hungry, and when they beat on their tumtums it could be heard for miles."

Wouldn't Want His Job

Pat and Mike were crossing the Delaware river on a ferry boat. They were watching intently a big dredging barge that was sending its mammoth scoops under the water and bringing up tons of mud.

"Pat," says Mike, "would yez loike to be a-workin' over there on that mud digger?"

"Yis," says Pat, "but, begorra, Oid hate to be one of the fellows under the water that's fillin' up them shovels."

SENTIMENT AT MEETING UNANIMOUS FOR A KORN KARNIVAL NEXT YEAR

Final settlement of the affairs of the Korn Karnival was postponed until next Monday evening by the directors of the Business Men's Association in session Monday evening. A few bills are yet to come in during the week. Close checking by the directors indicate that they will about break even on the Karnival, with the possibility of a small surplus.

Owing to the absence of some of the directors, the matter of next year's Karnival was not brought into the discussion, but the unanimous opinion of the six present was that a Korn Karnival should be held next year.

President Charles Daehler announced that on next Monday evening he would appoint his committees on nomination of officers for the coming year and the annual banquet. The terms of Albert Marling, W. W. Anderson and J. A. Bode as directors expire this year. The election will be held in connection with the annual banquet in November, which will likely be held in the new addition to the German Evangelical church.

The directors voted to pay the expenses of President Daehler as a delegate to the annual convention of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association in Cincinnati on November 19th. He was appointed by Mayor Frick along with W. B. Anderson, president of the Board of Trade, and Harry Strong, the business agent of the Building Trades Council.

Letters were read from Mayor Frick and E. O. McCowen, county school superintendent, thanking the directors for their expression of appreciation for their assistance during the Korn Karnival, and assuring them of the hearty co-operation in any other enterprise that is undertaken in the future.

Jitney Dance

The first of a series of jitney dances on Tuesday and Saturday evenings this winter will be held at the new home of the Portsmouth Elks, in the Play House building, this evening. Music will be furnished by the Journey Saxophone Orchestra.

ADMIRAL PEARY HAS THRILLS IN AIR

Admiral Peary ready to go up in flying machine.

Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the North Pole, had his first trip in the air a few days ago, when he was taken for a flight of several minutes' duration by Frank A. Burnside, a young American aviator, flying a Curtiss flying boat at Long Branch, N. Y. The famous explorer had a most thrilling experience. When the machine was at an altitude of 1,200 feet the motor stopped. The machine tipped suddenly to the left, righted itself, and Burnside guided it in spiral swoops downward until it rested on the water. Those on shore, who had seen the machine tip and then begin its spiral downward, sighed with relief.

CZAR FELICITATES MINISTER OF MARINE

Czar of Russia (right) congratulating Marine Minister Grigowitch.

The news of the Russian naval victory over the German fleet in the Gulf of Riga several weeks ago was hailed all over Russia as the beginning of a reverse for German arms and to the invasion. The czar personally called upon his minister of marine, Admiral Grigowitch, and congratulated him upon the notable victory.

OBITUARY

Samuel E. Bower

With the death of Samuel E. Bower, aged 49 years, which took place at Hempstead hospital Monday afternoon at 4:10 o'clock, Portsmouth loses one of its best known mill men.

Mr. Bower was stricken about ten days ago with strangulated hernia while at work at the Whitaker-Glossner company's plant, and was rushed to Hempstead hospital for an immediate surgical operation. He recovered in a few days and returned to work but suffered a relapse and after re-entering the hospital developed pneumonia and other complications. It was clear Sunday that he was sinking rapidly and his only daughter, Miss Bertha Bower, aged 20, who has been making her home with relatives in Columbus since the death of her mother, Mrs. Nana Hixon-Bower, six years ago, arrived in response to summons and remained at his bedside until the end came.

Mr. Bower was born and reared in Pittsburgh, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Bower, of that city. After working in various mills of his native city for years he located at Lorain, Ohio, coming to Portsmouth ten years ago. He was an expert roller and was regarded as one of the most valuable employees of the local steel plant. Of a jovial and companionable disposition he made friends of everybody who formed his acquaintance.

Mr. Bower besides his daughter also leaves an only sister, Mrs. Salome Hamilton, of Washington, Pa. While in Pittsburgh he was a member of the Mount Prospect United Brethren church. In recent years he has made his home with Joseph Reider, of 816 Chillicothe street. Charles Hixon, of Columbus, a brother-in-law, is here looking after the funeral arrangements which will be announced later.

Frasley Child

Death visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Frasley, of near McCall, Ky., Monday morning, taking their nine-months-old child who had been seriously ill for several days.

J. W. Bowditch

J. W. Bowditch, who was formerly superintendent of this division of the United States Express company, and who frequently visited Portsmouth, died at his home in Cincinnati Sunday.

Paris Clinger New Auditor In Adams

Manchester, Oct. 19.—At noon Monday Paris Clinger, a Republican, succeeded Wesley McKenzie, a Democrat, as auditor of Adams county. Carl Johnson, former assistant postmaster at Manchester, will be appointed as chief deputy, and S. A. Walker of Manchester, deputy state supervisor of elections, will be appointed sealer of weights and measures. All officers in Adams county are Republicans except County Judge Stephenson.

Condemnation Suit Heard At Ironton

The condemnation suit of the Ohio Valley Traction company against Samuel Eichers is being tried in probate court.

The common pleas court is being utilized for the trial and Judge Roberts is presiding like a veteran.

The jury selected for the case is composed of the following: P. Henson, Averill Pratt, L. G. Valentine, Riley Farrell, John F. Goldecamp, Willard Blake, George Arthurs, W. R. Edwards, W. J. Dilley, C. W. Golden and W. A. Russell.

The property is located in Hubbardsville, just above the point where the Newcastle pike crosses the N. & W.

The value of the property is disputed.—Irontonian.

Must Stay On Beat And Deliver Goods

Mayor Adam Frick has determined upon a new policy with regard to any police officers, who might go wrong on anything in connection with their official duties in the future.

Instead of shifting offending officers to some other beat, or district, as has been the custom when officers became the subject of persistent complaints, the mayor has ordered that such officers be kept right where they are and be made to correct the conditions complained of. It is then up to them to make good or automatically lose their positions.

CLAIM "NISH" RAILWAY HAS NOT BEEN CUT

Paris, Oct. 19.—Denial is made in Athens that railway communication between Saloniki and Nish has been interrupted. The Athens correspondent of the Havas News Agency, who forwarded this information today, reported also that the arrival at Saloniki was expected of the first train bearing French soldiers wounded in fighting with the Bulgarians.

The Hestia, of Athens, says that the arrival of French troops has prevented the Bulgarians from interrupting railway communication. The Bulgarians, this newspaper states, were thrown back with heavy losses. A train has arrived at Saloniki on its way to Monastir, in Southwestern Serbia, near the Greek border, carrying the books and money of the Serbian National bank. The train showed the marks of the rifle fire through which it had passed.

Ready To Start Work On New Warships

Washington, Oct. 19.—Construction was ready to begin today for the largest number of ships ever awarded by the navy department at one time. These contracts call for the construction of sixteen submarines and six destroyers at a total cost of $4,923,433.

The contract calls for delivery of the vessels in from 18 to 20 months. All of the destroyers will have a minimum speed of thirty knots an hour and a displacement of 1,125 tons each.

They will each have a battery of four 4-inch rapid fire rifles, two anti-aircraft guns and four triple torpedo tubes to discharge the heaviest and largest torpedoes now built.

The submarines will have surface and submerged speeds of 14 and 10 knots, respectively, with a displacement of 550 tons. Each will be equipped in addition to torpedo tubes, with a three inch disappearing rifle for surface shooting.

Steamer Sunk

London, Oct. 18.—The steamship

Aleppo, of the Wilson line, has been sunk. The crew was reported saved.

The Aleppo was a vessel of 3,570 tons gross owned by T. Wilson and Sons, Limited, of Hull. She is last reported in shipping records as sailing from Alexandria, Egypt, on September 15 for Hull.

WOMAN HIT BY MACHINE SUFFERS SERIOUS INJURIES

Mrs. Gertrude Higgins, a domestic employed at the home of Mrs. Cornelia Baker, of 824 Second street, was run down and seriously injured by a Ford automobile, driven by John Lutz, of 1628 Fifth street, near the corner of Second and Chillicothe streets, shortly after 5 o'clock Monday evening.

She was hurled to the paved street with great violence, sustaining an injury to her head in the fall that rendered her unconscious for over an hour. She was also severely bruised about the shoulders and it is thought was internally injured.

Mrs. Higgins was picked up by bystanders and carried into the Pure Drug Company's store in the Turkey building, where she laid in an unconscious condition, unidentified, for over two hours. No one wanted to assume the initiative of having her removed to the hospital for fear that her relatives, when they were ascertained, would want her taken home.

Finally, about seven o'clock, Mrs. J. F. Carr identified the shawl which the woman wore as one belonging to Mrs. Baker, her neighbor, on Second street. Mrs. Baker was notified and identified the injured woman as Mrs. Higgins, who had been working at her home since last Friday morning.

Arrangements were then made for her removal to the Hempstead hospital. The city service wagon came, but such a protest was raised by the crowd that had assembled in front of the store that Lynn's ambulance was called and the woman was taken to the hospital in an ambulance.

In the meantime Dr. W. E. Gault had attended to her injuries at the Pure Drug store. She had been made comfortable on a Davenport in the rear of the store, where she was resting easily when the ambulance arrived.

The gash in her head was an inch and a half long, and cut deep into the flesh. Blood flowed freely from the wound, and it was with difficulty that the flow of blood was stopped.

Dr. W. E. Gault stated Monday evening that her wounds were not fatal, and at the hospital Tuesday morning it was stated that she would recover. Her condition had improved greatly during the night.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lutz, who were in the automobile that struck her, remained with the victim until she was removed to the hospital, and assisted in caring for her until the ambulance came. They deeply regretted the accident, which seems to have been unavoidable.

Mrs. Higgins had started to the Anderson Bros. store on an errand for Mrs. Baker. As she started to cross Chillicothe street in front of the Turkey building, she noticed a street car approaching. She turned and started back to the sidewalk as Mr. Lutz drove up in his automobile. He succeeded in stopping the car, but the rear wheels skidded on the wet paved street, the front fender striking Mrs. Higgins and knocking
